Army Starts To Carry Out Troop Order

Forces in Korea Due To Be Reshuffled; 2 Divisions Will Depart

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army set out today to carry out President Eisenhower's order for reducing infantry forces in Korea, a dramatic first example of the "new look" military policy going into effect.

A spokesman said the decision on which two of the six army divisions in Korea would be withdrawn initially from the armistice-silenced front was one for the Far East Army Command to decide.

Reshuffle Division

Officials of that command said departure of the divisions could not come immediately. There were indications that a procedure used in Europe at the close of World War II would be followed in Korea. At that time, men whose overseas duty was nearing an end were transferred into a division earmarked for return and men in that division with short service were assigned to an outfit scheduled to say.

That process takes several weeks at a minimum. The high level decision to start cutting Army ground force strength was not reached until about 10 days ago and the detailed instructions began to filter down to the working level of the Army only over the weekend

Eisenhower, in the formal statement he issued at Augusta, Ga., left out all reference to overall military manpower policy changes. But the action obviously could have eventual influence on the size of the Army.

Wilson's Goal

The goal of the Defense Department under Secretary Wilson is to reduce total Army strength from a present level of about 1½ million men to 1,165,000 by July 1, 1955. This, Wilson has contended, can be accomplished without impairing the combat effectiveness of the Army, by reducing support and service troops.

The return of two divisions from Korea can reduce some of the high maintenance required for troops on foreign station.

Despite the expressed alarm of South Korean officials over the propose dU. S. ground force reduction, it was obvious that Eisenhower felt the political impact of troop withdrawal from that area would be less serious than to cut forces in Europe. There the United States is committed to maintaining current strength so as to encourage the buildup of forces by the Western European nations.

New Technique Stressed

Although Eisenhower's statement said nothing about the manpower reduction portion of his program, it did hit hard upon another phase—the growing dominance of weapons and new techniques in strategy. Thus Eisenhower commented:

1. "Our growing national airpower posesses greater mobility and greater striking force than ever before."

2. To be on the alert for an infraction of the armistice, the United Nations members of Allied forces in Korea were agreed it might be impossible "to confine hostilities within the frontiers of Korea," the President said.

That seemed a plain hint that these highly mobile forces of which the President spoke might carry any resumed war to Red China.

Rhee Worried Over Pull-Out Move by U.S.

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's President and foreign minister conferred privately today on U. S. plans to pull two divisions out of Korea, an authoritative source said.

Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai flew to China where President Syngman Rhee is vacationing after voicing South Korea's displeasure over the proposed troop withdrawal.

President Eisenhower's Saturday announcement brought cheers from most American soldiers here, and there was enthusiastic speculation as to which divisions would leave Korea.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, 8th Army commander, stressed that

INDOCHINA REBELS THREATEN. Arrow indicates route and objective of the Communist-led Vietminh drive climaxed with the capture of Takhek, on the Mekong River border of Indochina and Thailand. The fall of Thakhek, cutting Indochina in two, put the rebels in position to drive south toward Savannakhet (A), French-held air base, or northwest to Vientiane and Luangprabang (B), capital and important city respectively of the Laotian kingdom. French forces also expected a rebel drive on Dienbienphu (C) in north Viet Nam.

Neutrals Refer POW Question To U.N., Reds

Won't Hold 22,000 After Jan. 22 if No Agreement Is Reached

PANMUNJOM (AP)—A three-member majority of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission today turned back to the U. N. and Communist commands the question of what to do with more than 22,000 war prisoners who have refused to go home.

An Indian command spokesman said that if the two commands reach no agreement by Jan. 22 "we do not appear to have any legal right to hold them (the prisoners)."

The majority report was signed by the Indian chairman and by Czechoslovakia and Poland

Switzerland and Sweden filed a minority report saying it was "appropriate" to refer the prisoner problem back to the two commands. But the Swiss and Swedes said they could see no reason for a formal report at this time. They refused to sign the 44-page majority document which also charged South Korean interference in anti-Communist compounds and criticized the U.N. command.

Official sources said there was

New Progress Listed in Fight Against Cancer

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

BOSTON (AP)—A possible lead towards the development of a new diagnostic test for cancer was reported today to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Two university of Texas biochemists declared that in experiments with mice, they had found "a new and possibly significant biochemical distinction between tumor tissues and most normal tissues."

And, said researchers William Shive and Edwin M. Lansford Jr., "further consideration of this biochemical distinction from the stand point of possible diagnostic applications . . . may be warranted."

They also declared the finding might aid toward better understanding of the cancer process itself.

Their researches were concerned with studies of a chemical called "thymidine" which can be found in both normal and tumor tissue. The scientists developed a special technique for determining the distribution of this chemical in tissue. And they found that the amount present "appeared significantly greater in several types of mouse tumor tissue tested than in a number of normal mouse, rat, and other animal tissues, with the exception of spleen and thymus."

Their studies of "thymidine" content were made possible by the use of chemicals called "antimetabolites"—compounds which prevent or retard certain chemical chances which occur in living cells.

French Planes Blast Invaders In Indochina

Strengthen Key Bases In Laos Under Attack By Red-Led Vietminh

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—French fighters and bombers plastered the Communist - led invaders of Laos today and French ground defenders of the little Indochinese kingdom hastily strengthened key bases.

French Advance

The French were reported concentrating south of Vietminh-held Thakhek, on the Thailand border. French reconnaissance units moving north from their base of Seno reported they had been unable to make contact with the rebel forces who lunged across Laos last week, cutting Indochina in two for the first time in the seven-year-old war.

The French announced they had lost two companies of their own and North African troops in the Vietminh attack. The scouting units reported, however, they were rounding up soldiers of former garrisons in the area who had fled into the jungle at the Vietminh advance.

Reds Radio Claims

The Vietminh radio, meanwhile, claimed that the "greater part" of the Laotian troops under French command had deserted and joined the Red forces. The radio claimed also that the 100-mile invasion had been carried out by the "Laotian national liberation troops," but French sources in Saigon said the invaders were Vietminh regulars from coastal North Annam, possibly supported by some Laotian regional elements.

The French also were faced with a major supply problem. The rebel advance cut the Mekong River supply line as well as road routes to the Laos government seat of Vientaine. The capital and other strategic towns in northern part of the kingdom now must be supplied by air.

Auto Pilferings Continue; Two Thefts Listed

Two more cases of auto pilferings, raising the total in Marion to nine since Tuesday, were reported to City Police over the weekend. Both victims reported their cars were pilfered during the night hours Saturday.

Harold Clark of 1004 Gebhardt St. called police Sunday afternoon and reported someone had broken off the radio aerial and stolen a mirror from his vehicle. The car was reported to have been parked near his house.

Earlier, police had received a report from Orville Newell, of 1036 Henry St. that a tire and wheel, and a jack had been taken from his car. He told police the car was parked in front of his house. Value of the property stolen from Newell was placed at $17.

Police Chief Tom Coon today issued a warning to all motorists in Marion to keep doors and trunks locked on all cars which must be parked in the street. He said the best remedy would be to put cars in garages at night.

If that is impossible, Coon said the next best thing would be to leave cars under a streetlight, or in a well lighted section of the street.

Russian Bid To Postpone Talk Studied

Big Three Considering Reply; U.S. Believed Willing To Okay Delay

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France are considering their reply to a Soviet proposal for postponement of a Big Four foreign ministers' conference, amid signs they will agree to the delay and keep pressing for the meeting.

The State Department indicated this is the U. S. attitude, even though it implied the Russians might be maneuvering to lessen the chances of France joining the European Defense Community (EDC).

May Accept Delay

A British Foreign Office spokesman expressed confidence the three Western powers, which had proposed Jan. 4 for a meeting in Berlin, would accept the Russian counter suggestion that it be held Jan. 25 or later.

French official sources said only that the note Russia sent the three Saturday would have to be studied carefully.

But in Bonn yesterday Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, whose future would be high among the subjects discussed at any Big Four meeting, predicted the proposal would be accepted.

And the Soviets, in a broadcast yesterday that could be a propaganda prelude to the conference, blasted away again at the Western plan for free all-German elections.

Rips Free Eelections

Moscow radio, heard in London, aired an article from the official publication Izvestia saying. "false talk about 'free elections' is needed by the Adenauer clique and its patrons to screen their endeavor to get full control of Germany for their aggressive aims."

The Izvestia article repeated the Russian idea of East and West German Parliaments joining in a temporary all-German government to supervise elections—a plan which the West says offers no guarantee of freedom in the East zone and gives the Communists undue influence.

France, deeply divided for and against ratification of the EDC treaty which would create a unified West European army, faces the touchy problem of organizing a new government after Jan. 17, when its new President takes office. Any hope that talks with Russia might reduce international tension presumably would encourage French hesitation on EDC, which the Soviets strongly oppose.

U. S. Critical

Against this background, the State Department commented Saturday that it seems "somewhat curious" that the Soviets now say more time is needed "for appropriate preparation." It pointed out that the Western invitation to the Soviet Union to join in a meeting has been outstanding since July.

The Soviet note referred to the importance of assuring "proper conditions for participation in this conference for all the governments."

The State Department remarked, "the Soviet Union presumably has solicitude for other participating governments and assumes that it is better qualified than the gov-

Elswick Pleads Not Guilty in Death of Wife

Eleven Others Enter Pleas of Innocent at Common Pleas Session

A not guilty plea on behalf of Bert Elswick, 37-year-old Marionite indicted Thursday for first-degree murder in the Dec. 5 slaying of his 31-year-old wife, Violet, was entered by Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith at an arraignment this morning.

This plea was one of 11 similar pleas entered by persons indicted Thursday by the grand jury on charges ranging from murder and manslaughter to fraud and forgery.

Following the arraignment, Judge Smith was in the process of appointing attorneys for Elswick and four other men who were unrepresented by counsel at the arraignment.

State law requires the Common Pleas judge to enter not guilty pleas and appoint attorneys for all those indicted on felony charges who do not have the financial resources to hire attorneys.

Pleas of not guilty were entered by the court for Virgil Gilmore, 22, of 195 E. Fairground St., breaking and entering; Ide S. Webster, 35, of 618 Sugar St., fraud; Paul Sheller, 29, of Alger, forgery; and Howard E. Edington, 23, of 358 Milburn Ave., breaking and entering, and attempting to force entrance to a safe.

Entering not guilty pleas through their attorneys were Lloyd F. Cornwell, 43, of 605 Emerson Ave., and Sarah Dawson, 31, of 832 N.

Crashes Claim One Life Each Nine Minutes

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

The nation counted a toll of 711 accident deaths during its 1953 Christmas holiday weekend.

The final tabulation today listed 519 traffic victims, 81 who died in fires, and 111 victims of all other types of fatal accidents.

By The Associated Press

Accidents took at least 681 lives during the nation's Christmas holiday weekend.

Leading the death parade for the 78-hour weekend beginning Thursday 6 p.m. (local time) and ending Sunday midnight were 495 traffic fatalities. Another 76 persons died in fires and miscellaneous accidents caused 110 deaths.

Belated reports were expected to swell the figures and the 510 traffic deaths estimated by the National Safety Council remained within possibility.

By early Sunday the traffic toll was moving at a rate of seven deaths an hour and experts feared the final figure would exceed the three-day record of 545 deaths set in 1950 and possibly that of 1952 when 556 traffic deaths resulted in a four-day period.

A pre-holiday survey by the Associated Press for a 78-hour period including a weekend listed 310 deaths on the streets and highways 33 by fire and 89 miscellaneous.

Rescue Vessels Save 43 From Wrecked Ship

Operation Completed Despite Rough Seas; Entire Crew Survives

NEW YORK (AP)—Rescue vessels plucked the last of 43 persons from open lifeboats on icy, wind-lashed North Atlantic seas yesterday, hours after the survivors' freighter had split in two

The dramatic rescue operations hampered by a heavy sea, were completed by the U. S. Military Sea Transport ship Bluejacket and the Finnish freighter Orion.

Both ships then continued toward their European destinations. But the Bluejacket went only about 15 miles before huge waves made it pull up to ride out the storm.

"Hove due to mountainous seas and severe storm," the ship messaged the Military Sea Transport Service in New York.

The Bluejacket was first on the scene after the Swedish freighter Oklahoma sent out distress signals. The American vessel took 36 of the survivors aboard and reported all were in good condition.

The seven on the Orion could also be assumed to be unhurt, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

The 43 survivors, including one stewardess, were the entire crew of the Oklahoma and the only persons aboard her. The Coast Guard said all are believed to be Europeans.

A message from the Bluejacket quoted the Oklahoma's skipper, Robert Kutschbach, as saying the vessel broke in two about midships.

Efforts to find the ship later were unsuccessful. Kutschbach messaged the ship's general freight agents, Furness-Withy & Co., of New York, that it had probably sunk. However, a Coast Guard spokesman said the search would continue today.

Kutschbach gave the position of the Oklahoma when she split as about 40 miles off Newfoundland. The 5,900-ton vessel was headed from Sweden to Baltimore with a miscellaneous cargo.

The last survivors were taken from the fourth life boat around 3:45 a.m. Sunday, nearly 12 hours after the Oklahoma radioed it had split.

A spokesman for Furness-Withy said the Oklahoma was owned by the Transatlantic Steam Ship Co Ltd. of Goteborg. Although no details had been received yet, he said, the ship's crack-up was presumably due to the stormy weather.

GOP, Democratic Party Chiefs Confer in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican and Democratic party leaders of the Senate arrive in Washington today for conferences that may largely decide whether controversy or cooperation prediminates in the 1954 congressional session.

Aides said Senate Majority Leader Knowland (R-Calif) and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, will hold conferences in advance of the congressional meeting date, Jan. 6.

It is an election year session. Voting in November on all 435 House seats and 35 of the 96 senatorships will determine party control of Congress.

Tension therefore is bound to be greater than in 1953, when Knowland and Johnson worked harmoniously on most legislation.

Public statements during the weekend by three Democratic senators marked out some of the lines along which Democrats, almost as numerous in Congress as Republicans, intend to press the majority party. In the Senate the Democrats, although not in control of the legislative machinery, are actually ahead in numbers—48 to 47 Republicans and one independent. In the House the Republicans have 219 seats, to 15 Democrats and one independent.

Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee urged his fellow Democrats to take

Former Spy Offers Advice In Interview

Suggests Undercover Operators Be Induced To Desert Red Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — Igor Gouzenko, whose testimony cracked a Soviet spy ring in Canada, says he thinks there may be hundreds of Red agents operating in the United States.

And he recommended, in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report, made public today, that the government "make it worth while for some of them to quit and come out with their documents."

Smuggled Documents

That is what Gouzenko himself did in 1945. He was then a code clerk in the Russian Embassy at Ottawa. He smuggled out documents which led to the cracking of an atomic espionage ring.

Since that time, he and his wife and two children have been living quietly in Canada, under assumed names, and with government protection.

The Senate internal security subcommittee is now arranging to interview Gouzenko in secret, in a search for leads in its search for subversion in the U. S. government.

Gouzenko, asked to estimate how many Soviet agents might be working in the United States now, replied:

"I think it might run into hundreds. As some indication, they spent several million dollars in telegrams alone."

Works Through Rings

Many of these agents, he said, work through rings, perhaps with embassy contacts, and others are "agents resident (who) would work independently and have direct contact with Moscow by radio."

He advocated a five-point program to encourage defections among Red agents. It would include (1) prompt U. S. or Canadian citizenship, (2) lifelong protection, (3) material security, (4) help in finding employment, and (5) formal acknowledgment "that his service . . . entitled him to all assistance and help."

Gouzenko was asked to give his appraisal of the work of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee and for years a controversial figure because of his searches for Communists in government.

"I think he is doing a good job," Gouzenko said, "but he would do a much better job, obviously, if he had documentary evidence. But in his job he is doing the right thing because he is bringing into the open many things which many people are trying to use as excuses and pretexts . . .

"I think we should help to make his work better than it is."

Gouzenko said he almost never heard the names, either in Ottawa or Moscow, of American agents who were supplying the Soviets with secret data They were customarily referred to by "cover names," he said.

He said the Soviet apparatus was "extremely efficient," and that he was sometimes surprised himself "when I saw in Ottawa how they brought by the suitcase the original documents and blueprints . . . from the National Research Council, from the Munitions Supply Office . . ."

Gouzenko was interviewed by two U S. News and World Report staff members in a Canadian city the magazine did not name.

Ambition Fades With 'Year-End-Itis'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Did you bump into anybody on the way to work today? And did it kind of puzzle you, as your eyes were wide open at the time?

Well, don't let it worry you. You're just another victim of the "lost year end." Practically everybody is suffering from the same ailment. Check your own case by these common symptoms:

1. An overwhelming desire to work yourself into a lethargy instead of a lather.

2. An urge to postpone decisions of any nature, including even the question of replacing a broken shoestring.

3. A feeling that life can be beautiful, but who wants to go to the bother of changing it when it looks okay as it is?

4. A dreamy wonder about what the boss's stenographer would do if you hit her on the nose with a spitball—that is, if you felt like lifting your arm to throw a spitball.

5 An absence of all ambition, and a general sensation of well-nourished contentment, as if you were floating under a tropic sky in a sea of warm turkey gravy.

Anybody who has these symptoms has spent a normal holiday weekend, and there is no need to rush off to see a psychiatrist. For if you didn't yawn while telling him your troubles, he'd be sure to yawn while listening to them.

The calendar should list this as national sleep walking week, as it is the period when everybody just goes through the motions of his daily life without exactly knowing why.

The real purpose of this lull, of course, is to rest up from saying "Merry Christmas" so you'll have the strength to say "Happy New Year" with a forceful air.

If man had the common sense of the woodchuck, he would follow the example of the woodchuck—which is to crawl into a hole, pull the hole in after him, and fall asleep. But man must pretend to go through his normal "hit that line" routine, even though he really is kidding nobody.

In most offices this interlude between holidays is a week of unofficial vacation. The boss knows it, but there isn't much he can do about it, as he is a victim of "year-end-itis" himself. If he tried to give his sales staff a pep talk, it would wind up in a snore.

It is a time when all that even the go-gettingest go-getter can do is go get lost. The unfulfilled dreams of 1953 are now in the wastebasket. The goals of 1954 are still in the desk drawer.

A fellow makes a conscientious stab at his job, and what happens? Everything goes wrong. The important papers you want you can't find. The guy you want to reach on the phone has gone South. So have the smarter racehorses.

Everything is in abeyance. We stand relaxed on a bridge between a year and another year, kind of worn out by the year we're leaving forever and drawing a big deep breath before plunging into the year ahead.

So let us enjoy the haze of these final days and close them in a pleasant doze—if we can get away with it. For when we take a look at the new calendar on our desks next week, everybody will start jumping as if time had lit a firecracker under him, and the slogan again will be:

"On, Elmer, on!"

Anybody want to buy a used Christmas tree?

Man Hurled 35 Yards In Explosion Survives

GALLUP, N.M. (AP)—Charles H. Challacombe, 51, yesterday was flipped 35 yards through the air by an explosion in an automobile paint shop. He escaped with third degree burns on the face and hands.

Witnesses said the explosion tore the roof off the building as Challacombe opened the door to enter.

Mrs. Painter said the going rate is a dollar an hour before midnight, $1.25 after midnight, and door-to-door transportation for the sitter.

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

ALUMINUM BUNGALOW

Q: Would appreciate any information you can give me on a bungalow down at the shore made entirely of aluminum (walls, roof and siding). Should it be painted or can it be left unpainted?

A: Ordinary aluminum is not satisfactory for use at the seashore, salt water and salt air will cause the surface of the metal to become pitted. Painted aluminum can be used satisfactorily without much danger of the metal disintegrating under seashore conditions. There are special alloyed aluminum materials that are suitable for use at the shore, also on board ships. If this type of aluminum is used in the building there is nothing to worry about.

Car Plunges Off Bridge, 5 Die in Toledo

Gay Birthday Party Ends in Tragedy as Occupants Drown

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A gay party celebrating a birthday and a soldier's furlough ended in death for five persons yesterday as a speeding car ripped through a guardrail on the Cherry Street bridge and plunged 41 feet into the Maumee River.

The victims drowned in 25 feet of water. One was Mrs. Sue Laudick, whose 21st birthday was yesterday. Her parents and relatives had planned a surprise party for her.

Another victim, Pvt. Richard L. Sczepanski, 25, still wore a cast on one leg from injuries he suffered Nov. 16 when a flying boxcar tore into a group of descending paratroopers at Fort Bragg, N. C. He was home on furlough from an Army hospital.

The others killed were Mrs. Laudick's husband of four months, Paul, 24; William S. West, 24, who had been best man at their wedding; and Carl Boettcher, 27, father of two small children. All were from Toledo.

Police said the five had been celebrating in a tavern and were driving to a restaurant on the other side of the river. At the bridge, trucker McGinnis Shannon of Alma, Mich., said he saw their car, "traveling 75 or 80," pass him and skid through the iron railing. Had the car traveled a few feet farther forward it would have hit a thick concrete railing which would have stopped it.

The soldier, Mrs. Laudick and Boettcher were found in the back seat when the car was raised. Rescuers, using grappling hooks, recovered the other two bodies from the river.

DALLAS (AP)—W. W. Brown complained to police yesterday that someone stole the Cadillac hub caps during the night from his 1949 Ford.

RESCUED PUP. Wayne Gregory holds the two-month-old mongrel puppy which he rescued from a 38-foot deep well in Carlsbad, N. M., after the pup had been imprisoned for 10 days. Victim of Polio, 9, Disappointed, No Rangers in Texas

HOUSTON (AP) — When 9-year-old Herman Rowland, a polio victim from Lexington, Ky., arrived at the Southwestern Respiratory Center here a few weeks ago he was disappointed.

"I came all the way down here to see a cowboy," Herman complained to his doctor. "You see 'em on TV and in the movies, but you don't see 'em in Texas."

The Houston Post asked the Harris County sheriff's mounted posse to reassure the lad.

Yesterday, deputies who make up the posse gave Herman and the other patients a display of horsemanship. Herman watched from a window.

His comment: "It's a lot better, but I'm not ready to give up Kentucky and become a Texan."

Beauty Queen Candid

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A Reporter asked lovely Phyllis Jorissen, 17, Michigan's pretty apple princess and Gov G. Mennen Williams' special representative to the Rose Bowl, what most she wanted to see in Southern California.

The Muskegon, Mich., beauty made a reply as blunt as it was unexpected.

"Smog!" she said.

Nixon Getting Stature

Vice President Nixon's report on his Asiatic tour, though it had to compete with Christmas for attention, was a reassuring document of public service.

One of the most reassuring things that has happened in public life in many a long year is the emergence of Richard Nixon as a national figure of the first magnitude.

He has done this against the combined opposition of two of the most effectual character assassins in public life — the Communist conspiracy and the smear artists of the Democratic party who learned their infamous trade under the late Charles Michelson.

No expense or effort was spared to belittle and besmirch Nixon from the moment he knocked off a New Deal stalwart in a California congressional contest in 1946. He earned the wrath of the Communists when he unveiled the infamy of Alger Hiss.

In 1950 when he beat Helen Gahagan Douglas in the race for a California senatorship, the character assassins knew their work was cut out for them. What was intended to be the fatal blow was delivered in 1952 when Nixon was paired with Dwight Eisenhower on the Republican national ticket. But it failed.

The assassins knew then they had missed their chance.

Nixon in the vice presidency has evaded the handicap of obscurity which usually falls on the holder of that job. His energy, his understanding of politics and his skill as a conciliator have made him invaluable to President Eisenhower.

In a time when events seem to be in a tight conspiracy to belittle the stature of public men, it is reassuring to see one gaining stature instead of losing it.

Soothsayer's Dilemma

What would happen to economic soothsaying if one of its mumbo-jumbo experts would say something like this in a year-end statement:

That having looked into the crystal ball where he keeps his personal opinions, he sees a world ahead which is likely to live at peace for another year because the bullies would take a terrific clobbering if they started a war;

That there is every good reason to believe no mother's son will be blown to pieces in 1954 by the act of an anonymous enemy in a war which neither of them would understand;

That some of the blood money put into circulation by World War II and the Korean War is going to drift out of circulation as the world slowly recovers from its wracking spasms of war-boom inflation;

That in the 12 months just ahead there is a brighter promise for more human beings to live reasonably secure, normal lives than has been the case in any year since the middle twenties;

That for the first time since the beginning of World War I in 1940 the real value of money shows promise of settling down at a fixed point;

That the circumstances will be favorable for the beginning of a golden era of peace, provided men can turn their thoughts away from fears and misgivings about the transition from a war to a peace economy;

That while there may be no demand for soothsaying which runs contrary to the creeping socialists' theme that all is lost when the federal government slows down the gravy train, there is historic justification for believing the socialists have holes in their heads;

That the best years of all our lives lie just ahead, where they always have lain and that for a soothsayer to hint otherwise is a crime against the eternal verities?

Would a soothsayer who said that be thrown out of the soothsayers' union for conduct unbecoming a Gloomy Gus?

$9,000 a Year

Fortunately, the welfare of France is not going to be hurt directly by the latest evidence of political chaos in the French presidential election.

The president of France is chosen by a "congree of parliament,"—a group composed of the National Assembly and Council of The Republic. Its members showed all the signs typical of French politicians.

They have become so engrossed in their feuds with one another that they cannot agree on the welfare of the French republic. For an American to understand the gravity of the chaos which exists in French politics, it is necessary only to imagine what would happen if their own president were to be chosen by the House of Representatives and the National Security Council.

Though a French president is in many respects a figurehead, he has more influence than is generally known, particularly when he is a strong personality. Rene Coty, the new president, may be a strong personality but he is virtually unknown outside of France.

Vincent Auriol, the retiring president, has been a strong personality. He has been worth the 45 million francs the office pays. And therein lies the tale of France's financial plight. It now takes 100 francs to make 28 cents in U.S. money. Out of a nominal salary of $128,000 a year, a French president has less than $9,000 left when he has paid his taxes and his fixed expenses.

Democrats Will Dictate

By Raymond Moley

Eisenhower Faces Trouble in 1954 Issues

There is something refreshingly new in the approach of President Eisenhower to tough political problems. The most recent example of that is the program of generalities that came out after the recent White House conference of Republican leaders.

It is clear that the President and his immediate official White House family feel that it will be very effective to have a nice ... list of laws passed by the forthcoming session of Congress and to go forth next autumn and tell the people all about them.

This is a fine thought to have around this holiday season, but, like some Christmas neckties, these hopes will be limp and faded by Easter. And then, come Labor Day, it will be the fierce attacks of the opposition that will make the issues.

THE BEST thing that seemed to come from the White House parleys was the manifest good will in which the conferences were held.

In that the President is a master, however much he may have to learn about the hard ways of politics.

He will need all of that fund of good will as things unfold in the months to come. For on questions like the amendment of the Taft-Hartley Act, farm supports, tariff reductions, and foreign aid, the differences between the President's advisers and the preponderant Republican group in Congress are wide and deep.

There is still a resentment that approaches bitterness about the utter failure of the administration to make any considerable progress in ridding itself of personnel in the departments who find it easy and convenient to frustrate efforts to carry our campaign promises.

THIS RESENTMENT is not entirely because so few jobs have been provided for Republicans, but it is also because the administration, except for a few top people, is much the same as it was when Candidate Eisenhower in 1952 promised to clean it out.

The attacks of senators like Morse, Kefauver, and Humphrey will grow in intensity, and we can have a fairly good idea now of what they will be.

The old spectre of "big business" will be prominent.

IN MANY STATES New Dealers will be campaigning vigorously on the issue of electric power. They will say that the administration has "sold out" to the "interests."

Morse will be even more the incorrigible nuisance than he was in the last session. He claims that he has traveled more and made more speeches than any other senator in the recess.

Those speeches were made to local audiences and fortunately have not encumbered the Congressional Record—as yet. He says that he intends to oppose practically everything, particularly any effort to remove people not under civil service.

THE THEME of his story will be that the country is unhappy over Republican rule and is waiting for the first chance to change it all.

Kefauver is running not only for re-election to the Senate, but undoubtedly for the Presidency in 1956.

His attacks upon Republican policies will, except in the South, be much more vigorous than the mild banter of Stevenson.

Faced by such opposition, Republican candidates will build their own arguments.

They are not going to campaign as the White House dictates.

They will fire with whatever ammunition they find to be most effective.

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: This will thank you again for all those lovely ornamental bottles you added to my collection on Christmas Day and will tell you once more I'm glad you did not go to the trouble of emptying them first.

Your aunt is just as enthusiastic about her bottle collection — and for the same reason. She says her perfume bottles, though smaller, are prettier—but wouldn't be worth a second look without their contents. They contain the refined essence of blossoms whereas mine were associated with a larger and coarser crop of nature's bounty.

Forgive me for being enthusiastic beyond the call of duty, but 1954 threatens to be a long year. This was as merry a Christmas as we've every had and maintains our unbroken record of success.

We have started to plan for the high spot next year. I think you people will like what we have decided you need in 1954.

I think I'll get started on the groundwork for it New Year's Day, which is an indication it is not something we can buy in a store —not this one.

Meanwhile, I can start to mull over my New Year's resolutions. After you've lived as long as I have there are no new ones. You just warm over the old ones

The best resolution I ever made has been warmed over for more than 20 years.

It is to try to find the historical counterpart for everything that happens. Then by going back to see how things turned out the other time you can get a rough idea how they'll turn out this time.

My handicap in this respect is my own ignorance; I have too many blank spots in my education. But I keep filling them in. If I live to be 300 'Ill be out of blank spots.

I strongly recommend this resolution to you. It makes all other resolutions seem trifling by comparison. It's as silly to live without a sense of history as it would be to fight fires without the benefit of previous experience in firefighting.

One thing you learn right away is that no one has any right to complain about things as they are. With all their faults, things are so much better than they ever were before that no one in his right mind would want to turn back the clock.

If you want to know how bad the good old days were, ask an eyewitness like me If you think I'd swap by Scatterbolt Eight for a horse and buggy or my inside plumbing for a shack at the end of the grape arbor you don't know your Uncle George.

And if you think I don't appreciate the stimulation of all the things we read and watch and hear, you don't know your uncle either. The only thing that was better in the bad old days was the fact I was younger.

I'm still young enough to twitter with expectation of things to come —better things to come. Now just material things but fine new ideas, higher ethics and a higher level of education which finally will liberate human beings from their own ignorance.

That's what we need to fight—ignorance. Yours for an ignorance crusade in 1954 that will make real progress. Happy New Year from the two of us to the all of you.

Republican Farm Program Wanted

By Edward K. Nellor

A workable farm program Republicans can call their own is still the major legislative problem facing the party on the eve of the next session of Congress.

It is also publicly the least talked about issue in the wake of the three-day White House-GOP legislative meeting with President Eisenhower, which ended Saturday.

From reports, however, that have sifted down to House and Senate members still in town from the congressional leaders present at the White House session, several basic ideas were presented to Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary Benson.

These are:

Congress is committed to alleviate the fears from some farm areas of a national depression. This can be done by restoring confidence in the farm program which in turn will lessen the tonnage of farm produce under loan.

Price supports should be extended for at least three more years at 90 per cent of parity on all commodities that can be stored, plus a standby program for perishables, including cattle.

In dealing with surpluses some influential farm state congressmen are urging the White House to recommend a wider distribution of commodities in surplus abroad and a curtailment of imports whenever a commodity in the U.S. is below parity.

In addition it was suggested that the government refrain from selling surpluses back into the open market and that surplus food stored in the U.S. should be used as permanent insurance against drought and carried on the books as a government investment.

The President and his secretary of agriculture have repeatedly informed the nation that a workable farm program would be presented to Congress, taking the sting out of criticisms from political opponents.

None of the details of the anticipated program has ever been made public, however, some congressional leaders interested in the farm problem used the White House session as an opportunity to report to the President on what they think is needed, and what their farm voters are talking about.

Since the cattle caravan marched on Washington demanding price supports for beef cattle there has been little excitement over the administration's farm program. The President and Benson with the help of major cattlemen's organizations sidetracked this threat until the new farm program could be whipped into shape

The President has had a committee of prominent individuals interested in farm production working on farm production problems almost from the day of his inauguration. They have labored in silence and, according to present plans, will report their proposals to the White House for the eyes of the President's official family only. Out of this, plus the ideas expressed by his legislative visitors, the President and the secretary of agriculture will present a series of legislative suggestions to the new Congress.

House and Senate agriculture committees will open public hearings on the administration's plan as soon as members have had a chance to study it. If it is adequate bipartisan support is likely; if it fails to meet farm needs as members of Congress understand them, there will be rough and almost endless debate on the subject.

White House strategy all along has been to come up with a program that can honestly be labled a creature of the GOP. This has many political byproducts attached to it. If it is extensively remodeled by committees, or in floor amendments by Democrats, the GOP will be unable to get to the voters in 1954 with its prize package intact.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Fort Sumter was fired on at 4:30 a.m. on April 12, 1861 and news of the tragedy reached Marion on April 15. On the following evening, April 16, 1861, a large group of men gathered at the courthouse. At an early hour crowds began to throng the building and soon every foot of space was occupied. John J. Williams called the meeting to order, Captain Elisha Hardy was made chairman, John Hood, vice chairman and S. H. Bartram and H. C. Godman, secretaries. Then the American Flag was raised over the platform and the band played "The Star Spangled Banner." Speeches were made and immediately action was taken to raise volunteers for service.

Limit to Brainpower

By Thomas R. Henry

There are about two billion human beings in the world. Assuming one knew the names used by all, how many questions would be necessary to guess correctly the name of an individual?

This is a variation of the popular "20 Questions" game posed by Dr. R. L. Shuey, research associate of the General Electric Co.

His answer — exactly 31 questions. It could be done, that is, by an ideal mathematician — who didn't get rattled — using the latest mathematics of probability so that every question asked would split the remaining possibilities into two exactly equal halves.

Actually, Shuey says, it probably would be possible to arrive at the same result with the traditional 20 questions, taking only the reasonably likely names.

In the same report Shuey pictures a mathematically ideal written language in which all letters occur with equal frequency, all combinations of letters make words and all combinations of words make sense. Taking the 26 letters of the English alphabet, the number of words possible in this ideal language would be about 12,000,000. There now are about 600,000 recognized English words.

Practically, he admits, it wouldn't work at all because, since any possible combination of letters would make a word and any combination of words would make sense the slightest error on the part of a typist would change the meaning of what was written.

Still, mathematicians and communications expert struggle with the problem. One of the hurdles they are up against, according to a table presented by Dr. Shuey, is the limitation of the human brain and nervous system to accept and transmit information.

Thus, it is estimated, the human eye can receive about 4,300,000 bits of information a second and the ear about 8,000. The estimated capacity of the brain to accept information, however, is only about 100 bits per second.

That is one reason why mechanical brains can do some jobs so much faster and better.

Anyhow, They Have Fun

By MARK DANA

Two isolated news dispatches in the day's grist point precisely to no trend, yet all sorts of reformations have started from less. The headmaster of the grammar school at Eastbourne, England, has sent word to pupils' parents that they should "discourage sartorial eccentricities as well as that coiffure known as the crew cut," thereby apparently putting his pedogogical foot down on sloppiness as well as freakishness of youthful garb.

The principal of the Dorchester (Mass.) High School has taken more direct action. He has ordered his pupils to leave their faded blue jeans and other weird garments at home, else stay at home themselves, accompanying his ban on slovenly attire with a lovely sermon on neatness.

"Boys aspiring to business and professional careers," he solemnly reminded a school assembly, "should begin in high school to get the habit of careful grooming."

Now if the Massachusetts and the English schoolmen could just put their heads and rulers together, they might found a society for the restoration of orthodox garb for boys and, with such a head start, might develop enough temerity to attempt correction of some girl students' costumes.

Occasionally some parent will shake a head sadly over a daughter whose clothes choice would pain a hobo, only to beam proudly when daughter, completely reversing for a heavy date, dolls up like a princess.

But then, parents of girls are difficult to satisfy; they expect the unexpected and invariably get it. For a son, they begin when he is about 7 to hope that, any day, he will t... into a paragon of neatness, but it is a sort of wistful hope that never quite flowers.

Happily, boys and girls, around 20, cease delighting in shocking even the neighbors with a roughneck appearance—and in a few years more are worrying similarly about their own offspring.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Week After Christmas

Now Christmas is a memory
With Gifts in disarray;
(But stuff with which to pay);
My letter went unanswered, though
I simply asked him if
He'd see that all my debtors got
Some sleeping powders stiff.

(To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall!
And into the ashcan with Christmas bills all)

II

The tree we had was extra big—
It made our hearts so glad;
It had an extra string of lights—
(A credit-card I had).
The mantle held the stockings, yes,
And what a row of socks!
(The payments will be simple if
I bust into Fort Knox.)

-:-

(Then up to the housetop his coursers they flew
Not knowing my chimney was marked "I.O.U.")

III

Our gifts they broke all records and
Mom's sables were a hit;
("I'll have six months, they promise me,
Before the "PLEASE REMIT");
our Susie got much jewelry,
(They'll own 'em outright possibley
With a year or more.)

(As dry leaves before the wild hurricane fly
The bills will be whirling 'til Fourth of July.)

IV

The toys now fill each room and hall—
(A mortgage I must seek);
The kiddies got the cutest things—
(At so much dough per week);
The mailman, milkman, butcher and
The cook got presents, too,
From me this merry Christmastide—
(Oh bankruptcy, yoo-hoo!)

(I heard Santa exclaim as he drove to the west,
"This way to the debtors' court. Please BE MY GUEST!")

With Christmas over, it is time for belated "rave notices" in praise of a group who did more than any other to make Yuletide a thing of unequalled glamor and radiance physically. . . . the window dressers of the country's stores.

You never see their names in the papers. They get no credit lines. They are unknown to the public. Yet they did a job which challenged most things done by the much glorified giants of Broadway and show business generally.

The big stores of New York, Chicago, Boston and other major cities hit all-time highs in breath-taking window fairylands this year. It seemed as if every window was a "production number." Fifth Avenue, New York, always famed for its Christmas windows, eclipsed all the wonders of past years.

In all these larger cities the "scenic effects and "staging" outdid anything the theater, Hollywood or TV had to offer. Window after window blazed with a wonderful beauty reflecting an orginality, artistic talent and sense of taste seldom topped by the big boys of Hollywood and Broadway.

There were scenes and portrayals which few of the most widely praised designers of the American theater could have surpassed. Many of the best known couldn't have come close.

Little Old Woman Sells Papers While Entertaining Customers

ATLANTA (INS)—A little old woman sitting on a crate selling papers will tell anyone of Buffalo Bill, Will Rogers, and of the great from the last days of vaudeville.

Bus drivers, lawyers, drug store clerks, the mayor of Atlanta—hundreds have listened to her story.

Some are inclined to discredit some of the incidents which are related, but it is hard to disbelieve the woman, when she enters a perfect vaudeville routine for a little audience of passersby.

Buy a paper for a nickel, but you can get the show for nothing if there's time.

She may startle some pedestrians who hear a voice dripping with sentiment tell of "The Poor Little Blind Girl," and see the small hunched figure flinging out her arms with the trouper's finesse.

She gets off the bus at the corner near Atlanta's historic Five Points in the middle of the afternoon and sits on the crate until nearly midnight.

Who is she? She declares she is "Arizona" Owens, who set a record walking from Cheyenne, Wy., to Denver back in 1909—and she has a banner headline from a Denver paper to prove it, with a picture of an attractive woman, dressed like a cowboy, smiling triumphantly.

Where was she born?

On a ranch in Arizona, she said, back in '64. She grew up with horses, got a job with Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show, later entered vaudeville.

"I was once billed as the "Girl of the Golden West,' " she added. "I was blonde and pretty and I used to ride out before the audiences on a white horse.

"Once Will Rogers came up to me as I sat on the horse—this was before 1900. 'Give me a lock of your hair,' he said, and I told him to run away with himself."

Names of the great vaudeville stars of the 1900's came to her lips. She stated she had produced some of her own skits, like "Is Love A Phantom" and her blind girl routine.

What happened after vaudeville died? The woman said she had worked as a fortune teller with several carnivals, and was hired for a while to keep watch over the girls who performed. She cme to Atlanta in the early 40's, she said, without a penny, and sold papers rather than go to an old folk's home.

Now, filled with dreams or memories, whatever they may be, she sells papers at a furious rate to the many who know her and the many who don't.

More women over 35 look younger with Helena Rubinstein's Estrogenic Hormones
ESTROGENIC HORMONES ARE SINGLE MOST EFFECTIVE BEAUTY AID IN HELPING AGING SKIN RETAIN MOISTURE
There's a new "young" generation on the scene today — matrons, grandmothers — vigorous, attractive, exciting women who reject the "old look"! There are thousands of them who have been discovering, since Helena Rubinstein launched her Estrogenic Hormone preparations nine years ago, the most successful way to keep their complexions looking younger.

But you can help your skin retain its precious moisture with Helena Rubinstein's Estrogenic Hormone twins . . . the Cream on the face, the Oil on the throat. Fine lines and wrinkles disappear . . . a miracle you can see for yourself after 30 days of use. Two Fires, Pair Of Emergency Calls Reported

A fire of undetermined origin early yesterday destroyed a garage and its contents including an automobile located at the rear of the residence of Walter Collins of 134 Jefferson St.

The blaze broke out shortly before 1:30 a.m. Sunday and firemen from the Central station answered the call at 1:32 a.m. They estimated the loss at $2,000.

Mrs. Collins told firemen she had been burning rubbish near the garage early Saturday evening and later drove the car in the two-car garage, but neither time noticed any smoke or flame around the garage.

City firemen also reported one other fire run and two inhalator calls over the weekend.

At 3:50 a.m. Sunday, Mark St. station firemen were called to the former John Evans stone quarry located north of W. Fairground St. near the C and O railroad where an abandoned dynamite shack was burning. No loss was reported. Firemen said transients may have been sleeping in the shack and accidentally set it on fire. The abandoned quarry is now owned by the National Lime and Stone Co., firemen said.

At 10:50 a. m. yesterday the inhalator crew was called to the residence of John Lingrel, 61, of 685 Davids St. where he was having trouble breathing because of heart trouble. The inhalator was used five minutes successfully.

Other inhalator call was at 8:20 a.m. yesterday to the residence of Mrs. Pearl McBride at the rear of 308 S. State St. Firemen reported Mrs. McBride was overcome by gas fumes from several gas jets turned on in the house. The used the inhalator on her successfully for five minutes then took her to City Hospital where she was treated and released.

Two Injuries Reported in 12 Auto Mishaps

Nine Accidents Listed In City; Two Drivers Arrested by Officers

Two persons were injured and two motorists were arrested on drunk driving charges in four of 12 accidents in Marion city and county over the weekend reported today by city police, state highway patrol and the Marion County sheriff's department.

Injured in one of nine accidents on city streets was Mrs. Charles Dysert of Zanesville. She received injuries to her right arm and neck and was treated and released at City Hospital.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Charles Dysert, also of Zanesville, which was involved in an accident with three other automobiles.

The mishap occurred at N. Main and Fairview Sts. at 5:16 p.m. yesterday when a car driven by Harry Henry Keasley, 62, of Centerburg struck the rear of Dysert's car pushing it forward into a car driven by Dominic Palurbo, 22, of Chicago which in turn was pushed forward into the fourth car driven by Ralph R. Root, 51, of near Pataskala.

Police reported there was considerable damage to both Keasley's and Dyert's cars but only slight damage to the other two. All four were headed south on N. Main St. and Root, Palurbo, and Dysert were stopped, police reported.

Two motorists were arrested in two of eight other minor, no injury accidents on city streets.

Clare W. Smith, 57, of 651 Mt. Vernon Ave. was charged with drunken driving following an accident at Mt. Vernon Ave. and E. Church St. at 7 p.m. Saturday. Police reported Smith was driving east on E. Church St. turning right onto Mt. Vernon Ave. and crossed over the center line striking another car westbound on Mt Vernon Ave. driven by Ralph Burton of 220 Forest Lawn Blvd. Both cars were considerably damaged, police said. In Municipal Court today, Smith pleaded not guilty. No date was set for a hearing.

Another driver charged with drunk driving following an accident in front of 640 Mt. Vernon Ave. at 7:10 p.m. Sunday pleaded guilty in Municipal Court today and was sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail, fined $100 and costs, and his driver's license was suspended for three years.

Elmer Sauer, 57, of the Marion County Home was arrested after his car, eastbound on Mt. Vernon Ave., crossed over the center line and struck a car driven west by George W. Simpson, 29, of near Marion, police reported. After the collision with Simpson's car, Sauer's car apparently went out of control and struck a tree in front of 658 Mt. Vernon Ave. tearing off some bark. Both cars were badly damaged, police reported.

One of the remaining six accidents in the city was a hit-skip which occurred at 9:15 p.m. Saturday at W. Center and Campbell Sts. The hit-skip car was traveling west on W. Center St. and struck another car driven west by Leo D. Young of 435 Toledo Ave. The left rear end of Young's car was damaged, police said.

The front end of a car driven by Richard L. Dutton, 22, of New Bloomington was damaged when it struck the rear of a car driven by James R. Reed, 21, of 329½ Blaine Ave. in the 200 block on Leader St. at 6:30 a.m. today. No damage was reported to Reed's car. Both were northbound.

The rear bumper of a car driven by Robert E. Smith, 18, of near Marengo was damaged in a similar accident on W. Center St. near Marengo was damaged in a Sunday. Smith's car was struck by another car driven by Wayne M. Temple, 27, of 258 Fies Ave. Both were headed west on W. Center St. There was no damage to Temple's car.

Cars driven by Walter R. Showers, 26, of 232 S. Prospect St. and Donald H. Coykendall, 18, of rear 507 Silver St. were damaged in a collision at Prospect and W. Center Sts. at 9:30 p.m. Sunday. Both drivers claimed the green light. Showers was northbound on S. Prospect St. and Coykendall eastbound on W. Center St.

Another collision at Hocking and Edwards St. at 9:00 p.m. Sunday caused damaged to cars driven by Harold L. Holloway, 27, of 224 Edward St. and Albert Ray Thornton, 26, of 337½ Chestnut St. Holloway was driving west on Hocking St. and Thornton east on Cars driven by William Bowman, 22, of 531½ Bellefontaine Ave. and Everett Pruett, 27, of Fremont, W. Va. were damaged in a mishap at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in the 700 block on N. Main St. Both were northbound.

Patrol Praises Drivers

State patrolmen from the Marion post praised Marion County motorists today as they reported only two one-car accidents in the county over the Christmas week end.

One person was slightly injured in one of the accidents. Patrolmen said that, considering the traffic conditions, which were extremely crowded in the area, they were pleased with the low number of accidents.

Frederick W. Kuba, 38, of near Morral was the only injury reported in the two accidents. He was hurt when he failed to negotiate a curve on Marion County Road 83, about 100 feet south of State Route 739 at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, patrolmen reported.

Kuba was southbound and went off the left side of the road in trying to make the curve. The car was badly damaged. Kuba was taken to Marion City Hospital where he was treated for lacerations on the forehead and bridge of the nose.

The other county accident happened at 1:45 p.m. Sunday on County Road 163, just south of State Route 95. Patrolmen report a car driven by Richard A. Jenner, 17, of near Caledonia ran off the right side of the road into a ditch.

Reports show Jenner made a curve in the road and saw traffic coming toward him. Patrolmen say he swerved his car to the right and went off the road. He was uninjured but the car was demolished.

No One Injured

No one was injured when cars driven by Virgil E. Fox, 25, of 1058 Uncapher Ave., and Lunas Johnson, 54, of near Marion, collided at the intersection of County Roads 148 and 163.

The accident was reported Saturday afternoon to the Marion County sheriff's office. Time of the accident was listed at 2:20 p.m.

Ashley Man Injured

One person was injured in the only Morrow County accident reported over the weekend by state patrolmen from the Marion post. The accident happened at 2:30 a.m. Sunday on U. S. Route 42, one mile north of Cardington.

Dale L. Gale, 21, of near Ashley was taken to the Morrow County Hospital after he failed to negotiate a curve and went off the road into the ditch on the left side. Patrolmen investigating the accident said it was a sharp curve which Gale was unable to negotiate.

The driver was taken to the hospital in a Curl Ambulance. At the hospital, he was admitted and given treatment for shock and lacerations of the face and head. His car was demolished.

Rips Dewey's Criticism

Sen. Monroney of Oklahoma, taking strong exception to criticism by Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York of the Truman administration's handling of the Korean War, accused the GOP of "hitting below the belt at the entire Democratic party," and said Democrats themselves could tackle hard.

Sen. Kerr of Oklahoma, a member of the tax-writing Senate Finance Committee, came out for an increase in income tax exemptions.

Much of the success or failure of the broad legislative program that President Eisenhower has promised to submit to the second session of the 83rd Congress may depend on personal relationships between Knowland and Johnson.

One of the first problems facing Knowland and Jonhson will be a Senate internal dispute about important committe places for Democrats and Republicans because of the present freak situation with Republicans in control while Democrats hold a numerical majority.

Message Due Jan. 7

The President will spell out to Congress in person details of his new legislative program Jan. 7.

Among the major issues for the new session are the size and scope of defense and foreign aid programs, farm price support legislation, taxes, spending and the 275 billion dollar limit on the national debt.

There is material for fights also in proposed statehood for Hawaii, exchange of atomic secrets to carry out Eisenhower's proposal for an international pool to foster peaceful use of nuclear energy, and amendments to existing labor laws.

Advice to France

Diplomats read in this wording a message to Frenchmen: You know better than Russia what your own interests are.

Another section of the Soviet note was interpreted as a possible delaying gambit. The Western powers had proposed the former Allied Control Authority building in the U. S. sector of Berlin as a meeting place. The Russians said it would "appear expedient" to let the four high commissioners have a preliminary meeting to choose the place.

Lausche Calls Off Meeting With Truckers

Governor Will Attend Services for Foust; Session Set Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche postponed until tomorrow a meeting with representatives of Ohio trucking interests to attend the funeral today of Howard S. Foust, state agriculture director.

Foust, who also managed the the Ohio State Fair, died Christmas Day.

Trucking representatives requested the meeting with Lausche to discuss problems resulting from Ohio's new highway use tax on trucks. Tomorrow's session was scheduled for 1 p.m. in the governor's office. The state reciprocity board was invited to attend.

A dozen southern states have threatened to end truck tax reciprocity with Ohio by March 1 unless the Buckeye State includes its new axle-tax on trucks in their reciprocal agreements. And some 10,000 AFL owner-drivers in 10 midwestern states called a strike for Jan. 15 if Ohio enforces its new tax.

Lausche has insisted Ohio should collect the axle-tax from out-of-state trucks as well as from those based in the state. He said that because the tax is in addition to the usual gasoline and license tag fees, the axle-mile levy should not be included in reciprocal agreements. Under those agreements, other states exempt from their levies all trucks which pay similar taxes in their home states.

Ohio's use tax applies to trucks with more than two axles at the rate of a one-half to 2½ mile traveled, according to the number of vehicular axles. Enacted by the last Legislature to raise money for arterial highways, it became effective last Oct. 1.

Loyalty Check Bogged Down

Legal Snarl Stalls Action in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed loyalty-security checkup on all the approximately 1,800 employes of the Senate has bogged down, although it was recommended by a unanimous Senate vote 10 months ago.

J. Mark Trice, Senate secretary, and several senators who asked that their names not be used cited three reasons for the plan's failure:

(1) A legal prohibition against disclosure of FBI data to persons not authorized to receive it, (2) failure of the Senate to vote the FBI special funds to help with the checkup, and (3) disinterest on the part of some senators.

Last March 6 the Senate unanimously passed a resolution, which does not have the force of law, directing that each of the 96 senators, all Senate committees and all Senate officials having authority to hire ask an FBI check of their employes.

City and County Ready To Issue Licenses to Food Establishments

A reminder and warning was issued to restaurant and other food service operation owners in Marion today by Dr. J. T. Gruber of the city department of health.

The reminder is that applications for operation of such places where food is served are available at the city board of health offices in Room 3 at city hall on W. Center St. today and tomorrow only from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The warning is that all such food service establishments including hotels, taverns, clubs, hospitals, restaurants, vending machine companies which serve food automatically, soda fountains, lunchstands, company cafeterias, and all other like places must obtain a license to continue serving food after Jan. 1. This is a state law.

Of the 200 such establishments in the city only five had applied for a license this morning.

These licenses are issued by the city health department for a $25 a year fee providing the establishment applying passes all sanitation and proper food handling requirements.

Dr. Gruber said the license will not be issued unless an application is first made for the license and an inspection of the establishment is made. The applications will be issued only today and tomorrow between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., he said.

Regulations and applications for food service operation licenses for about 70 Marion County business establishments were placed in the mail today by the Marion County Health Department.

The regulations explain the transfer of the licensing and inspecting of food service operations from the jurisdiction of the State Fire Marshal's office to local boards of health. Under this law, which becomes effective Jan. 1, local boards of health must levy an annual license fee that will produce enough revenue to pay the expenses of the inspection program.

In order to secure the revenue to defray this cost, the Marion County Board of Health on Nov. 23 adopted a sliding fee scale ranging from $20 to $50, depending on the seating capacity.

The licensing and inspection program is to be carried out by Ralph Augenstein, county sanitarian.

Tragic Chicago Fire 50 Years Ago Recalled

CHICAGO (AP)— Fifty years ago this week newspaper readers read a story that seemed incredible.

It was the story of a fire that snuffed out the lives of almost 600 women, children and men in a matter of minutes in the new, "fireproof" Iroquois Theater.

The disaster touched of a chain reaction in the United States and Europe. It gave a hot spur to a movement that brought new safety regulations and theater safeguards.

Among them are quick-opening vents over stages and automatic sprinklers, reinforced asbestos or metal fire curtains, flame-resisting scenery, emergency lighting systems, and exit doors that are plainly marked and open outward.

If the Iroquois had had these safeguards, and had them in working order, one of the greatest tragedies of the 20th Century would not have played there.

The theater, on Randolph St. in Chicago's Loop, was jammed that day—Dec. 30, 1903. About 1,602 persons were seated, and more than 200 stood in the aisles, at a matinee performance of a musical show, "Mr. Blue Beard."

During the second act a stage drapery brushed against an arc light and caught fire. The flames leaped into the rigging loft.

Eddie Foy, a comic and a star of the show, ran from his dressing room to the stage.

"Don't get excited," he urged the panicking audience. "Take it easy."

Foy ordered the curtain dropped. The asbestos curtain started down. But the left end caught on a light reflector 20 feet above the stage floor. The right end dropped to a point about five fet above the stage floor.

The ventilators above the stage couldn't be opened to draw the flames upward. A strong current of air flowed from the open stage door to an open ventilator above the gallery.

Suddenly flames and heat swept outward from the stage and surged into the balcony and gallery.

Foy, the clown who ad-libbed a hero's lines, escaped with his life.

The number of dead was placed that night at 571. In some later reports it was raised to 602.

The National Fire Protection Assn. listed it as "the most serious theater fire of modern times."

The story, often retold has become a classic object lesson. Records indicate the lesson has been well learned.

Reference works show only one theater fire in this country since then with a great los of life. That was in Boyertown, Pa., Jan. 13, 1908. The toll was 169 dead.

Man Fined $100, Told To Pay for 2 Uniforms

A Marion man charged with resisting arrest, intoxication, and disorderly conduct was fined $100 and costs and ordered to pay $110 damage to uniforms of two city policemen when he entered a plea of guilty in Municipal Court today.

Alvin Slob, 43, of 246 Leader St. was arrested at his residence Friday evening after he swung on the patorlmen were damaged and both process of investigating an accident in front of Slob's home, according to police report.

In the struggle uniforms of both patrilmen were damaged and both were treated at City Hospital for cuts and bruises.

Judge W. Dexter Hazen suspended $50 of Slob's fine on condition he pay the damages to the uniforms.

Both barley and millet were staple foods in Egypt as early as 6,000 B.C.

little prospect that the majority report would lead to settlement of the bitter prisoner dispute.

The Allies hold that the armistice provides specifically that unrepatriated prisoners be freed as civilians 30 days after the close of a 90-day period for explanations. That would mean the prisoners must be freed Jan. 22.

Communist Angle

The Communists just as firmly contend that they are entitled to 90 days of actual explanations rather than a 90-day period which ended Dec. 23. They have used 10 days. The Reds also insist that the prisoners remain in custody pending action by the peace conference, regardless of when a conference is convened.

In addition to turning the prisoner question back to the two commands, the majority report said:

1. A secret South Korean headquarters in Seoul reached into all 55 compounds of the South camp holding anti-Communist Koreans and Chinese and exercised a powerful influence over the prisoners.

2. South camp compound leaders used "coercive methods" and "acts of violence were committed against prisoners wanting to go home."

3. The commission could "find no evidence" of such a similar organization in the North camp housing Americans, South Koreans and one Briton—although prisoners there seemed "under strong discipline."

4. The commission could not say that even the prisoners who went through the explanation tents were "completely freed of force or threats of force."

5. Both commands were entitled to hold explanations "for a period of 90 days"—a statement interpreted by the Indian spokesman to mean what the Allies claim it to mean: the 90 day period ended Dec. 23. (A footnote signed only by the Czech and Polish delegates contended the Communists are entitled to 90 days of actual explanations.)

Depends on Reaction

There was no statement that the Indians would screen prisoners not yet interviewed. The Indian spokesman said such a step would depend on reaction of the two commands to the report.

The combined report totaled 44 pages for the majority, 23 pages for the minority, plus cover letters from Indian Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, commission chairman, and other members.

Thimayya said in his foreword to the report "I . . . express a hope shared by all other members of the commission that your command will give earnest consideration to the problem of disposition of the prisoners of war in a manner consistent with the fundamental objectives embodied in the terms of reference (of the armistice.)

"The commission will therefore await with interest your comments on the report."

Impartiality Impossible

Swedish Gen. Jan Stenstrom said in his letter "it is impossible to make an impartial choice between the existing facts and it is impossible through such a (majority) report to avoid blaming one side or the other."

The Czech delegate said the majority report failed to show "clearly enough" that the U. N. Command sent its prisoners into neutral custody as an organized group and that this organization prevented prisoners from exercising their right to ask repatriation.

The charge in the majority report of South Korean interference in the South camp seemed certain to provide fuel for more Communist accusations that the explanations were sabotaged.

Beria's Crime

By George Sokolsky

The text of the Beria indictment is to be judged in relationship to the purges of other high officials at the 1936-38 trials at which the prosecutor was Andrei Vishinsky, now the Soviet delegate to the United Nations. The accusation against Beria was similar to the accusations against Trotzky, Kamenev, Zinoviev, Tukhachevsky and even Beria's predecessor, Yezhov. In a word, it is a standard indictment to accomplish the removal of a high official from office and from life.

SOKOLSKY

Beria was accused of plotting with the "Western Imperialists," by which is meant the United States. To this crime, Beria was reported to have confessed, but no date was given to the conspiracy.

IT WOULD be interesting to see the date, because it was Beria who set up a Russian espionage ring in the United States, stealing the atom bomb, the proximity fuse, the radar developments and much else.

The testimony of Elizabeth Bentley, who worked for Beria's organization in this country, is evidence that he did not conspire with the United States, but against it.

The case of Bruno Pontecorvo needs to be examined in this connection.

This is an Italian of British citizenship, who is one of the greatest scientists in the world. He has played an outstanding role in atomic fission and hydronuclear developments.

He was not known to be a Communist and had access to every secret in the possession of the United States. Suddenly, Pontecorvo, his wife and children slipped out of England and showed up in the Soviet Union where he directs the atomic and hydronuclear programs of that country.

Certainly, this was not accomplished by cooperation between Beria and the State Department.

TO CHARGE Beria with crimes, the indictment goes back to the 1917 revolution when Beria was about 17 years old. He then lived in Baku.

He was accused of having been an agent in the Caucasus of the anti-Bolshevik Mussavatist government. When that regime was eliminated and the Bolsheviks took Georgia, Beria showed up in Tiflis and became a member of the Cheka, as the secret police was called at that time.

He enrolled in the Communist party in 1920 and came under the patronage of Sergo Orjonikidze, Stalin's closest friend, whom Stalin eventually murdered.

This 1920 membership in the party has a curious sequel. Stalin took a liking to Beria and pushed him to higher ranks, but came up against the prejudice that top appointments should be for those active in the revolution.

STALIN and Orjonikidze revised Beria's biography, placing him in the party in 1917 and making him more eligible for the high rank he eventually attained. It was explained in his biography that he had been engaged in underground work among illegal Communist organizations in technical schools in Baku.

Malenkov, as Stalin's secretary and Beria's close friend, knows that this biographicaal item is untrue. He therefore renounces Beria as faking his party record and revives the myth of Beria's anti-Bolshevik activities in Baku.

MALENKOV KNOWS that it was Stalin who insisted upon the fraud. Is he therefore also denouncing Stalin?

In Alexander Orlov's book, "The Secret History of Stalin's Crimes," he discusses many of the personalities associated with Beria's career.

Orlov had worked for Beria's predecessor, Yezhov, and was to have been liquidated when he escaped.

One of the most revealing stories he tells is about Orjonikidze, who was closer to Stalin than any other person but whom Stalin ordered liquidated nonetheless.

In February 1937, a great funeral was held for Orjonikidze, at which Stalin acted as pallbearer and chief mourner.

BERIA'S ENTIRE career was due to Orjonikidze's patronage; nevertheless he did the hatchet job for Stalin, seeing to it that his patron was properly murdered and full vengeance wreaked on his family. It was a clean job with no loose ends.

Then something pretty cheap was done that gave away the show. Orjonikidze's birthplace was the town of Vladikzvkaz and, to honor him, Stalin had it changed in 1930 to Orjonikidze. Seven years after the liquidation, the name of the town was changed to Dzaudzhikau. Had Orjonikidze not been murdered, why was it necessary to remove the honor to his memory?

Beria was a murderer and he has died by murder. But he did not conspire with Western Imperialists, meaning the United States. That is certain.

Old Master

By Victor Riesel

Two portly, white - maned gentlemen made the headlines last week by giving away presents. One jingles bells. The other, John Llewellyn Lewis, jingles dollars — as he always does when he's about to launch a major 2ar of John L. gave the latest in an 18 - year old series of contributions to other labor leaders, bringing the total to something close to 2 million dollars. The most recent was a $50,000 bundle, the first installment on the payment $250,000 to the old longshoreman's outfit ousted from the AFL on charges of racketeering.

RIESEL

Then, behind - the - scenes, Lewis had his high - powered public relations people drop word around that this was really the beginning of a new third labor federation to compete with the AFL and CIO.

-:-

BY SUBTLE indirection the story went out that Lewis virtually had in his hand the CIO Steelworkers Union, the AFL Teamsters Union, the AFL Textile Workers Union (to which he recently gave $250,000) and now the beginning of a powerful waterfront federation built around his own District 50 50 and the tough old International Longshoremen's Assn.

Since you can break your back in this business by jumping at conclusions over a John Lewis maneuver, let me trace this last one for you as it developed backstage. Then we both can guess.

For months now Lewis has been investigating the mobs on the New York waterfront. When he learned that the official Bi - State Commission, which now licenses waterfront workers, had withheld permits from only 100 thugs, he moved in.

In a New York hotel off Park Ave., Lewis handed $50,000 to Capt. William Bradley, the man who succeeded old Joe Ryan as head of the longshoremen. Twenty-five thousand dollars more was immediately available. And $175,000 more was pledged.

THEN LEWIS returned to Washington and told his press agent, David Charney, to start things rolling. Lewis telephoned Bradley and told him to come to Washington.

Charney arranged to have the TV and movie newsreel cameras there to record Bradley's arrival at the imperial coal palace.

Once inside, Bradley sat alone with Lewis. The old master talked quietly about the labor movement, hinting at a third labor federation and the role that Bradley and the longshoremen could play in building one.

John L. asked Bradley just how he was going about trying to defeat the AFL's heavily - financed new longshoremen's union in the representation election Tuesday and Wednesday.

Bradley told him how they were hiring buses and cars to get their people out. Lewis said that there would have been no crime on the waterfront if the political authorities in New York City had wiped out the 100 mobsters.

Now the authorities were spending millions to get that band of 100 men. Bradley pledged he'd help wipe out the mobs.

AT THE END of sufficient time for such portentous moments in Lewis' personal history, Bradley left. The longshoremen's chief then sat with the newsmen and said that he had just come from "the greatest friend labor ever had," which didn't exactly irritate the man inside the United Mine Workers Headquarters.

Lewis had put the deft finishing touches on another of his master strokes. He had crackded the headlines.

He had needled the man who had always defied him and who had once accused him of being a "comrade of Comrades." That man is AFL president George Meany.

This is being written before the final vote on the waterfront. But it makes little difference. If Capt. Bradley's ousted longshoremen defeat the concentrated power of the AFL, then the country will say that it was John Lewis' personality alone which beat back the enormous strength of Meany, the AFL and its mammoth unions.

IF BRADLEY loses, Lewis will say that the visit was purely a social one and everybody got too excited.

But win or lose, Lewis will have pulled off another of his pre - coal crisis maneuvers.

The country will be talking about his effort to "capture" the nation's waterfronts, from which he could "strangle" our commerce.

He will come out of this as a fierce man of unplumbed strength. Then, in this atmosphere, he will move on the coal mine owners like a giant killer to make the best bargain he can for his union in a sick industry.

And all for $50,000 to $75,000. The old master is still the deftest of them all.

Detroit Boy Fights For Life Aided by TV Call for Blood

DETROIT (AP)—James Emmons, 13, kept alive by blood donors recruited by television, was given a seven-to-three chance of surviving today.

James has peritonitis (inflammation of the abdominal cavity lining). He was shot accidentally Christmas night with a .32 calibre hunting rifle in the hands of a playmate. The bullet pierced his stomach and shattered a hip.

He was rushed to receiving hospital, but it had only two pints of his rare type blood, AB-RH negative, in its bank and James needed a series of transfusions. Dr. Austin Z. Howard asked Detroit's three television stations to appeal for donors. Two hundred responded. Forty-seven were accepted.

James has been given 11 pints.

The bullet was removed in a two-hour operation yesterday, and three infection-fighting wonder drugs given James.

Nehru Flees From Rally As Sikhs Demonstrate

BOMBAY, India, (AP)—Security police hurried Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru away from a rally at a Sikh shrine yesterday after menacing demonstrators shouted him down with screams of "Nehru, go back."

The demonstration at Guru Fatehgarh Fingh Sahib, a famous Sikh place of worship 35 miles from Patiala, was one of the worst ever staged against Nehru. It was led by the Akali party, which is demanding a separate Panjabi-speaking state within the Indian union.

Private Group Planning Fight On Amendment

Gen. Clay, John Davis Head Committee, Will Oppose Treaty Curb

NEW YORK (AP)—A private committee has been formed to fight against a proposed constitutional amendment that would limit treaty making powers of the President of the United States.

The organization, which says its specific aim is to oppose an amendment proposed by Sen John W. Bricker (R-Ohio), lists John W. Davis and retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay as co-chairmen of the committees sponsors.

Clay is former U. S. commander in Europe and now chairman of the Continental Can Co. Davis was Democratic candidate for president in 1924 and more recently served as attorney for the steel companies in fighting their seizure by former President Truman.

Formation of the group the Committee for Defense of the Constitution by Preserving the Treaty Power, was announced yesterday.

In a statement the committee said the Bricker amendment would "make our procedure for carrying out our treaty obligations the most cumbersome in the world. . .and seriously weaken our bargaining position in dealing with other nations."

The Bricker amendment would allow a treaty or executive agreement to become effective as internal law only after majority approval by both houses of Congress. The legislation would also have to be valid in the absence of the treaty.

LEWISBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon for Columbus M. Cochran, 53, and his daughter. Mrs. Gwendolyn Burdette, 26, two of three persons slain by an ex-convict who killed himself. The services will be in the Greenbrier County community of Trout.

Threat Fulfilled,- Ohioan Takes Life

CLEVELAND (AP) — Telephone worker Carl L. Wray threatened several times to commit suicide, but his estranged wife, Doris, never took him seriously, she told police.

Then last night, when a car in which she was riding stopped for a red light in downtown Cleveland, Wray got out of another car and walked over to the window.

"Do you want me dead or alive?" he asked. She made no answer and he drew a pistol and shot himself through the brain. Wray, 25, was pronounced dead at St. Vincent Charity Hospital.

Mrs. Wray, 26, said they had been separated for about a year and that she had sued for divorce.

HELD IN SLAYING

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cecil L. Williams, 21, of Chicago was held today in a holdup slaying and five armed robberies. Police said he admitted killing Charles Burgess, 27-year-old filling station attendant, Saturday night, during an $80 robbery at an East Side filling station.

The home was beautiful with Christmas decorations and the table was laid with a scarlet cloth centered with an arrangement of greenery and candles. The cloth was fashioned from a huge Nazi flag sent to the hostess by her son who was in Germany during World War II. The flag was one of several that had been used in a Nazi recreation center and the removal of the emblem from the center transformed it into a Christmas cloth. After roll call, Mrs. Stanley Ohl presented an unusual Christmas story and Mrs. V. A. Martin read a poem. Carols were sung while the gift exchange was being held. The next meeting will be Jan. 4 at 8 p.m.

The instruments ranged from the violin to the harmonica and jews harp.

A quartet composed of Mr. Grummel, Mr. Adams, Mr. Snavely and Mr. Case sang several numbers and Edwin Turk sang two solos. Stick to Facts In Audits, Ohio Officials Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Stick to the facts in making audit reports of Ohio cities, State Auditor James A. Rhodes ordered today.

Rhodes commented on an audit of Cuyahoga Falls that he said was partly based on an examiner's "mere conjuncture . . . and personal opinions . . ."

In a letter to the examiner, Rhodes said, "It is not the policy of the present administration in the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices to make 'findings' where there is not sufficient evidence, based on fact, to support a civil suit or a criminal prosecution."

He suggested all public officials be regarded as honest until proven otherwise.

Rhodes said that prior to his taking office in January a newspaper release was issued hinting at discrepancies around $100,000 in the fiscal affairs of Cuyahoga Falls. The examiner's findings could not support enough evidence to bring civil action on findings that amounted to the smaller sum of $11,214.57, Rhodes said.

Rubber Industry Leader Sees Top Year in 1954

Production and sales of rubber products in 1954 should remain close to the mark set this year, John L. Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich Co. said today in Akron.

He said the nation's total consumption of new rubber is expected to be about three per cent below the record breaking 1,340,000 long tons of rubber producted this year. The figure Collyer expects to be reached in 1954 is about 1,300,000 long tons.

Imaginative as they are, you'd think the doll manufacturers would get out a model with a built-in alarm clock to wake you up at 6 a.m. just like a real baby.

Indian Reds Urged To Seek Power at Polls

MADURA, India, (AP)—India's Communist high command told the first party congress in five years yesterday that it must keep trying to win power peacefully at the polls, rather than through the terrorist tactics used until two years ago.

The Moscow-backed policy directive was put forward by the convention's steering committee headed by the party secretary general, Ajoy K. Ghosh. Ghosh arrived in Bombay less than three weeks ago after a six-month visit to the Soviet capital for medical treatment.

The peaceful action program continues a policy adopted in October, 1951. The committee said "experience has proved its correctness."

The program rejects terrorism—which ousted Secretary General B. T. Ranadive had advocated—as unsuited to India's Gandhian tradition of non-violence. The party committee called for a "broad based united front able to establish a government of democratic unity."

Ghosh appeared firmly in the saddle. He assumed the top party post two years ago as a shaky compromise choice between the opposing factions, one favoring violence and the other the parliamentary approach to power. Red sources here indicated strong backing from Moscow had made Ghosh the closest thing to an accepted boss the quarreling Indian Communists have ever had.

The sources added that since Ghosh's return from Moscow, the Red leadership seems clearly to view Moscow, rather than Peiping, as the focus of control and support for Indian communism.

Resolutions adopted by the congress did not mention Chinese Communist Leader Mao Tze-tung but stressed instead that India's Reds would "further strengthen the bonds of friendship and brotherhood between the peoples of India and the Soviet Union."

Door to Soviet Talks Still Open

Ike Shields Flickering Hopes of Peace

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The year just ending may be remembered in history as the one in which President Eisenhower took relations with Russia out of the refrigerator and used a blowtorch on them.

If there seems to be a thaw in those relations it may be due to the heat, which made the Russians sweat a little in public. But, since they were frigid before, they may turn frigid again.

And this wouldn't be the first time that men everywhere, looking for even a small candle of hope in a bleak world, thought they saw near the year' end a faint glow.

On Dec. 24, 1952, a reporter for the New York Times asked Stalin if he would look favorably upon a meeting with incoming President Eisenhower. Stalin said he would.

This did not cost Stalin a dime, and it gave him a chance to look like a peace lover. Was this a candle? Men everywhere awaited the reaction of American officials.

President Truman's only comment, two days later, was: "I would be pleased indeed if any greement can be reached which would achieve world peace." It was the most he could say. Stalin had been talking of Eisenhower, not him.

What would Eisenhower do? John Foster Dulles, picked by Eisenhower to be his secretary of state, did the answering for him.

Dulles had carried out important assignments for Truman. His attitude toward Stalin was as cold as Truman's. It could hardly be otherwise, since it was a national attitude.

Dulles cooly said the Eisenhower administration would "seriously and sympathetically" consider any "concrete proposal" from Stalin. He said "diplomatic or U. N. channels are always available. . . ."

When Eisenhower took over, his expressed view of Soviet peace murmurs was as ice-cold as Truman's. It didn't change even when Stalin died or when Malenkov the same month said international troubles could end peacefully.

This didn't melt Eisenhower. If the Russians wanted peace, he said, they could show it by deeds. In a numb of small incidents the Russians showed a slight softening.

To Sir Winston Churchill these things may have looked like the candle. He tried to nudge Eisenhower into meeting with Malenkov. Eisenhower wouldn't buy. But he was willing to try the Russians out in another way: through foreign ministers' talks.

The United States, Britain, and France on July 14 proppsed that their foreign ministers meet with the Russian foreign minister.

On July 27 the Korean war ended in an armistice.

There still hasn't been any foreign ministers' meeting. The West and Russia have been swapping notes about it since July. They seem to have agreed, at last, on everything now but the exact time and place.

The months melted into one another. The ice covering relations between this country and Russia remained solid as before.

Eisenhower decided on a supreme effort to thaw the relationship. He proposed on Dec. 8 that this country, Russia and others pool some of their atomic materials for peaceful uses.

This put the heat on the Russians. They could hardly say no to talking about the idea, which was all Eisenhower asked, because the reaction of the rest of the world was too enthusiastic.

Eventually they talked as if they might discuss the atom. But that isn't certain yet. Neither is the foreign ministers' talk. If the meetings take place it will have to be in 1954. If they do take place, they may get nowhere.

There's a chance they might. That at least is a candle. There wasn't any candle this time last year.

'THAT ERMINE SUIT.' Film Actress Terry Moore, wearing "that ermine swim suit," is surrounded by GIs of the 45th Division in Korea who seem to be more interested in the photographer than Miss Moore. The suit has been packed away and she'll continue on her Korean tour, entertaining soldiers in other costumes.

Former Ohio State Star Charles W. Bolen Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —Charles W. (Shifty) Bolen, 56, former football and basketball star at Ohio State University, died early today.

Bolen suffered a cerebral hemorrhage 10 days ago. He had been a field supervisor for the sales and excise tax division of the state Department of Taxation.

Survivors include the widow and a son, Dr. John G. Bolen, an interne at Battle Creek, Mich.

Bolen played football with Charles W. (Chic) Harley under the tutelage of former Ohio State Coach John W. Wilce, in 1916 and 1917. In 1917, Bolen, an end, won a place on Walter Camp's All-America football team.

He was born in Marion, Ind., and later lived in Newark, Ohio. He enlisted in the Army Air Force in 1918, and never returned to Ohio State to finish his course. He also was captain of Ohio State's 1918 basketball team.

Millionaires Reportedly Set To Wed Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The Journal-American said today that Porfirio Rubirosa, international playboy and former diplomat, will marry millionairess Barbara Hutton within the next two days.

The newspaper's columnist, Cholly Knickerbocker, said Rubirosa, thrice married and' often romantically linked to other women of the glitter set, is flying here today or tomorrow from Las Vegas, Nev., where he has been visiting Zsa Zsa Gabor.

Knickerbocker said he was told about the planned Rubirosa-Hutton nuptials by Miss Gabor who added her own romance with him "is over."

Efforts to reach the Hutton suite at the Hotel Pierre elicited "there is no one in," from the hotel staff.

Rubirosa was recently dropped as the Dominican Republic's minister plenipotentiary to France for "misconduct."

He was formerly married to Flor Trujillo, daughter of the Dominican dictator, French actress Danielle Darrieux and to Doris Duke, often teamed with Miss Hutton as America's richest heiresses.

Barons Drop 6-2 Decision to Louisville Stars in IHL

Smallest Crowd of Season Sees Marion Skid to Sixth

By GARY SAMS

Louisville's Shooting Stars rammed home three goals in the opening period and went on to down the Marion Barons 6-2 in an International Hockey League battle on the Coliseum ice Sunday afternoon.

The loss dropped the locals, who were tied with Troy for fourth spot in the IHL before weekend action, to sixth position. Troy vaulted into third place in the standings with a pair of victories over Grand Rapids and Milwaukee.

Breaks Home Streak

Marion's third loss in four outings against the visitors this season left the locals only two points ahead of seventh-place Louisville and four in front of eighth-place Ft. Wayne. It marked the Baron's first loss on the home ice since Nov. 29. Marion had won five straight here.

The smallest crowd of the season, 1,100 fans, watched the visitors clinch the verdict in the first period.

The first came with only 2:23 gone. John Sherban, sent to the penalty box for high sticking after 13 seconds had elapsed in the rough first period, jumped out of the penalty box to notch Louisville's first goal. He picked up the loose puck at the red line and skated all the way in for the score.

Louisville's other scores in the period came within a three-minute period 10 minutes later. Joe Shaw scored from 15 feet out at the 12:39 mark on assists from Billy Murphy and Ed Calhoun with Marion a man short. Murray Wilkie was sitting out an elbowing penalty. Ray Marshall, Louisville's player-coach, received credit for the third Louisville goal. With his team a man down, Marshall stole the puck at the blue line and skated in all alone for the score.

Increase Lead

The winners upped their advantage to 4-0 in the second period before Marion was able to shove the disc past Louisville goalie Al Bennett, who is the property of Cleveland, parent club of the locals, for a score. Bernie Hill got the fourth Louisville goal on a shot from 25 feet out at the 12:22 mark. Frank Toyota and Shaw received assists on the play. Marion then added some excitement to the then dull second period only a half-minute later with its first goal of the contest. Dutch Delmonte shoved a pass in from directly in front of the Louisville net at the 12:51 mark. Joe Ingoldsby and Wilkie assisted on Delmonte's goal. Only penalty of the period came later at the 19:35 mark when Hill was directed to the penalty box for tripping.

Louisville scored twice in the final period before Marion, playing its first game in a week following the Christmas holiday, could score again. Eight minutes and 47 seconds had gone by in the third period when Murphy shoved the disc into the Marion net. It followed a scramble in front of the Baron goal and came after Baron goalie Lou Crowdis had turned out one shot. Shaw and Toyota were again in for assists. Louisville got its final goal five minutes later when Calhoun picked up a loose puck at his own blue line and went in all alone for the score at 14:04. Louisville was a man short on the play.

Pouring the disc at Bennett during the third period, Marion finally scored again. With less than two minutes left to play, Kenny Schultz went in for the Baron score. His 21st goal of the season came at 18:29. Gordon Vejprava passed to Schultz at the red line to set up the score.

Bennett turned away 40 shots by the Barons while Crowdis had 32 saves to his credit. The Baron's defense tightened up during the final two periods, with Louisville being held to 18 shots at the Marion goal after 14 in the first. Meanwhile, the locals were putting Bennett to work, firing the puck at him 27 times during the last two periods.

Play Troy Wednesday

Marion's next action is Wednesday night. Troy, which hasn't been able to notch a victory over the Barons this season, comes here. Shelby Night will be observed. Then Marion travels to Toledo Saturday night before both clubs come here for a return match Sunday.

The Waldo High School band provided entertainment for the small crowd at the game.

Last-Period Pass Gives Lions Pro Title 17-16

Brownies' Air Attack Fails; Detroit Nails Second Crown

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT —End Jim Doran of the Detroit Lions waited until the precise moment to catch his first touchdown pass of the season—and it was worth $33,912.45.

That's how much extra the Lions earned Sunday by clipping the Cleveland Browns 17-16 for their second straight National Football League championship.

The game was a real thriller, matched by only a few pro playoffs, and the ironic part about it was that Doran was supposed to play defense, and not offense. He was forced into offensive duties when Leon Hart, Detroit's towering end, suffered a wrenched knee early in the game.

With only 2:08 to play Doran speed behind Ken Konz, Cleveland defender, and gathered in Bobby Layne's winning touchdown pass. Doran cradled the ball in his arms as he speed across the final money stripe.

It was a crushing jolt for the Browns, who led 16-10 with less than five minutes to go, thanks to three field goals by Lou (The Toe) Groza and a nine-yard TD run by fullback Chick Jagade.

But the Lions, who cut them close during the season, proved their clutch ability was no fluke by marching 80 yards in eight pulsating plays. Layne and Doran were the key players in the drive. They combined on three pass plays good for 68 yards.

Boiled down, the game was decided in the Lions' favor because they had a passing attack and Cleveland didn't. Otto Graham had one of his worst games in his eight year pro career, completing only two passes in 15 tries for a mere 20 yards.

With a crowd of 54,577 and millions of televiewers looking in, Detroit took a 10-3 lead at halftime. Doak Walker drove across from the one early in the first period and he kicked a 23-yard field goal in the second period.

Cleveland, impotent in the first half, was red-hot after intermission and tied the score 10-10 when Jagade capped a 51-yard drive by bulling through right guard to score.

Then Groza sent Cleveland ahead in the fourth quarter with two field goals—15 yards and 43 yards. But it wasn't enough.

Each winning share for the Lions was $2,424.10 while each losing share was $1,654.10.

Brown Defends Graham, Called Plays Himself

DETROIT (AP)—Paul Brown, coach of the Cleveland Browns, refused to place the blame on his quarterback, Otto Graham, for Sunday's 17-16 defeat to the Detroit Lions in the National Football League title game.

I wouldn't blame anyone," Brown said after the game. "We just got beat by one point in a rough, tough football game."

The Cleveland coach reflected, then added:

"But it was the toughest game we've ever lost."

Down the hall under Briggs Stadium, where the Lions were whooping it up, Coach Buddy Parker said his team's stategy was to stop Graham.

"I figured that if we won we would have to put the pressure on Otto Graham's passing—and our whole line took care of that," Parker explained. "I also figured our passing would be the difference—and it was."

Statistics bear out Parker. Graham, who seemed to have trouble getting his footing on the slippery turf, completed only two of 15 passes for 20 yards. That's like Ted Williams hitting .100.

raham summed up his efforts with: "I just played a lousy game, that's all. I couldn't control the ball. My hands were a little ch pped. I had the same trouble in the final game of the season in Philadelphia."

Detroit quarterback Bobby Layne had a fine day, on the other hand, hitting 12 of 25 for 179 yards—and of course that payoff pitch to end Jim Doran.

WON BY A STATISTIC

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—Steve Kraly, southpaw pitcher for Binghamton, won the Eastern League's 1953 earned run honors. But it took an official ruling for him to achieve the distinction. Previously Ed Zinker of Schenectady had been declared the ERA leader. The official ruling states that a pitcher, in order to be eligible for the ERA crown, must have hurled at least as many innings since the Eastern League play a 154-game schedule. Zinker had pitched only 152 innings for his 2.07 mark. Kraly pitched 190 innings and wound up with a 2.08 average.

Young Fighter Will Make TV Debut Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)—Is Ralph Dupas as good as he's cracked up to be?

Fights fans will find out for themselves on Saturday night when the 18-year-old schoolboy from New Orleans makes his national television debut against seasoned Paddy DeMarco of Brooklyn in a 10-rounder at New Orleans municipal auditorium.

The kid is ranked as the world's No. 3 lightweight contender, mainly on the strength of wins over Johnny Gonsalves, when the Oakland boxer was ranked first, and over Armand Savoie. DeMarco, 25, has fought the leading 135-pounders, and currently is ranked tenth.

This will be Dupas' first 10-round bout with three-minute rounds. He'll be meeting a master of pace in the aggressive Brooklyn veteran.

The coast to coast telecast starts at 9 p.m., EST.

Middleweights George Benton of Philadelphia and Bobby Jones of Oakland, Calif., collide tonight in the main 10-rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway arena. Dumont will telecast the bout to some parts of the country starting at 10 p.m., EST.

Welterweight contenders Johnny Saxton of Brooklyn and Del Flanagan of St.Paul clash in the Wednesday night headliner at the Minneapolis armory. The 10-rounder will be telecast coast to coast by CBS starting at 10 p.m., EST.

Brooklyn's flashy, Lulu Perez and scrappy Davey Gallardo of Los Angeles, meet in a "rubber" featherweight bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night. Perez won the first on Sept. 4 when he stopped the Californian on cuts in eight rounds. Gallardo avenged that defeat by trouncing the 20-year-old speed merchant in 10 rounds on Nov. 27.

The 10 p.m., EST, 10-rounder will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC) coast to coast.

Prexy Quintet Plays Host for Ashland Squad

Ashland's sharpshooting Arrows invade the Harding gymnasium Tuesday night as Coach Jim Lawler's Prexies attempt to snap a three-game losing streak in their final game of the 1953 portion of their basketball schedule.

The visitors will bring a 5-0 mark here. Ashland has averaged 78 points to its opponents' 50 in those games while hitting on a remarkable 44.4 per cent of its shots.

Pacing the Ashland attack is Ken Sidle, 6-5 senior center. He is averaging 23.4 per game with 117 points in Ashland's five games. The tall center has hit on 58 per cent of his shots, hitting on 44 baskets in 75 attempts from the field. Last season, Sidle scored 450 points in 21 games in his deadly one-hand and soft hook shots. He was named to the second team All-Ohio.

Sidle will be teamed with Jim Dilgard, 5-10 senior, and Jack Miller, 5-11 senior, at the guards; and Larry Brewer, 6-0 senior, and Max Messner, 6-0 sophomore, at the guards. All with the exception of Miller were lettermen on last year's squad which won 16 and lost 5, winning the sectional tourney at the Coliseum before losing to Sandusky in district play.

Dilgard, Brewer and Messner are all helping the Ashland offense click by hitting in double figures in most of the games for the visitors. Dilgard has hit for 69 points and Brewer for 58 points on their set shots for 13.8 and 11.6 averages respectively while Messner is averaging 12.6 a game on 63 markers. Miller has dropped in 34 points and Tom Enck, 1 6-1 junior who has seen considerable action, has totaled 23 points.

Coach C. E. Taylor's club has downed Cleveland Lincoln 80-39, Bellevue 69-58, Toledo DeVilbiss 89-54, Galion 73-55 and Massillon 80-46.

Marciano Will Defend Crown Against Nardico

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—Heavyweight Boxing Champion Rocky Marciano says he'll defend his crown against Danny Nardico of Tampa, Fla., Feb. 24 at Miami Stadium in a nationally televised bout.

Looking lean and rested despite his recent 37,000 mile exhibition tour of the Far East, the 29-year-old titlist said last night in an interview he was going to New York Thursday to sign for the fight.

Bucks' Paul Ebert Leading Scorer in Big Ten Struggle

CHICAGO (AP)—While Indiana and a few other Big Ten basketball teams have been drawing most of the attention, Coach Floyd Stahl of Ohio State has quietly developed the conference's most dangerous scoring unit.

His Buckeyes, in winning four of six games against outsiders, have produced three of the Big Ten's five top scorers. As a unit, the Bucks are averaging 81.8 points a game. They're the only team in the conference besides Michigan—85.8 points for five games—to average more than 80.

Stahl has the conference's No. 1 scorer, senior center Paul Ebert, and the No. 4 and 5 men, sophomore guard Robin Freeman and junior forward John Miller.

Ebert, who trailed Don Schlundt of Indiana in Big Ten scoring last year, is averaging 25.2 points a game. Freeman is hitting an even 21 and Miller 20.4. Rounding out Stahl's starting five are Cleo Vaughn, sophomore forward who has a 6.6 point average, and Dean Cook, junior guard with 8.1.

Second to Ebert in individual scoring statistics compiled today by The Associated Press is Illinois' center, John Kerr, with a 23.0 average for six games. The Hoosiers' Schlundt is third with 22.3 for seven games.

The only Buckeye defeats this season ocurred when Ebert was held down. He scored only 12 points Saturday when Ohio State lost to Oregon State 62-60. His total was 16 against Louisville, which beat Ohio State 85-76. His highest production was 35.

Minnesota, which can't boast even one of the conference's 10 top scorers, nonetheless is one of the Big Ten's two undefeated teams (Michigan State is the other). The Gophers racked their seventh straight Saturday, over Xavier of Cincinnati, 67-64. Only other team to see weekend action was Northwestern, which beat Yale, 76-57.

First games of the championship season are due this coming Saturday with Minnesota at Illinois, Indiana at Michigan and Purdue at Wisconsin.

Man, Accused Of Bribe, Faces Jail Sentence

DES MOINES (AP)—A new Iowa law making actual or attempted bribery in athletic contests a criminal defense has been invoked for the first time against a Des Moines businessman charged with trying to fix the score of the Drake University-Iowa State College basketball game Dec. 22.

Floren Dipaglia, 27, official of a building supply company here, was arrested Sunday on information filed by Detective Chief Robert E. O'Brien. He was accused of attempting to bribe Ben Bumbry, star Drake forward, to shave points off the Drake score.

Dipaglia was arraigned before Municipal Judge Don Tidrick and pleaded innocent. He waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the Polk County grand jury under $3,000 bond supplied by his brother Raymond.

The arrest came as a climax to an investigation which had been underway since last week when Bumbry told authorities he had been offered from $300 to $500 to see that Drake lost to Iowa State by eight to 10 points.

Bumbry said he declined the offer and reported it immediately to Drake Athletic Director Jack McClelland.

The Bulldogs lost the Dec. 22 contest to Iowa State 69-59 but Bumbry played an outstanding game and led his team in scoring with 17 points.

The law under which Dipaglia is charged was enacted by the 1953 Iowa Legislature. It carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison or a $10,000 fine or both.

The information against Dipaglia names several persons as witnesses. One of them is Calvin Louis Hicks, of Roxbury, Mass., a Drake sophomore who works at the university fieldhouse.

Hicks said Sunday he had been approached by a man he did not know and was asked whether he thought Bumbry and Willie Cerf, sophomore Drake center, would throw a game he said. He reported the incident to Bumbry and Bumbry told him to inform McClelland. Police said Cerf was not approached directly.

Dipaglia is president of Walside, Inc., a firm which deals in siding for houses. He also is a partner in the builders supply co. here.

Carnival Event Opens Tonight With 2 Games

The fourth annual holiday basketball carnival gets underway at the Colisum tonight with host St. Mary meeting Elm Valley and defending champion Lexington taking on Radnor.

The Lexington-Radnor clash is first on tonight's double bill scheduled to get started at 7:30. St. Mary and Elm Valley meet in the night cap at about 9.

Tonight's game will find the Irish trying to bring their season record up the the .500 mark. So far, they've posted a 2-3 record with victories over Carey 55-50 and Fostoria St. Wendelin 43-33 and losses to Mt. Gilead 51-53, Tiffin Calvert 75-62 and Columbus Acquinas 64-46.

Coach Ray Robbins starting line-up will probably have Jack O'Keeffe and Larry Ryan, both 5-10½, in the two pivot spots. High-scoring Mike Anderson, 5-11, will probably be operating on the outside with Roger Micheli, 5-10, and Butch Merchant, 5-7.

Jerry Ballenger, John Messenger, Pat O'Connor and John Smith should also see a lot of action for St. Mary.

Tomorrow night the first round winners will vie for the carnival title with the losers meeting in a consolation game.

Elm Valley, tonight's opposition for the Irish, looks like it might be able to take the championship. The Aces have racked up three wins in five starts this season. The two teams have played one common foe. Mt. Gilead, which downed St. Mary 53-51 and Elm Valley 49-47.

Elm Valley's probable starting crew includes Walt Borchers, John Humes, Borden, Bob Curren and Ed Vanausdale.

Lexinton has a 1-3 slate this season. Radnor has been able to register only four wins in its nine contests.

Last year Lexington won the carnival in its first appearance in the holiday classic. The Richland County squad downed St. Mary 55-46 in the championship game.

Lexington got into the finals with a close 47-46 decision over Elm Valley, while St. Mary downed Radnor 62-41 to move into the title game. In last year's consolation game, it was Elm Valley over Radnor 42-31.

U.S. Net Stars Break Even in Davis Cup Play

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE (AP)—Tony Trabert enabled the United States to gain an even break in the opening singles matches of the Davis Cup challenge round against Australia today when he ground out a methodical 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 victory over Ken Rosewall, one of the Aussies' 19-year-old wonder boys.

The Americans' backs were against the wall when Trabert stepped onto the Kooyong Courts before a packed audience of 17,500. Lewis Hoad, the other young Aussie, had just licked Vic Seixas, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3 to send the Downunder lads into a 1-0 lead in their quest to hold the cup for the fourth straight year.

Seixas' defeat at the hands of Hoad was particularly galling for the American contingent since the Australian star never had beaten Vic in six previous matches. It was a point on which the United States was counting.

Now, with the doubles slated for tomorow and the final two singles matches on Wednesday, there is no denying that the Australians are in the better position. United States Captain Billy Talbert has all but conceded them the doubles which probably will pit Hoad and Rosewall against Trabert and Seixas.

Trabert, in contrast to his teammate, played masterful tennis as he banged away at Rosewall's forehand according to plan. Tony simply would pound his shots to Rosewall's forehand, then rush into the net for the kill. He never varied his tactics.

From the very first game of the first set when he broke through, Trabert was the complete master. Rosewall tried to fight him with power shots and in the final set with placements and volleys. It was no use.

Trabert has a habit of letting up when he is far ahead. In the first set, for example, he whipped into a 5-0 lead before he permitted Rosewall to win three games in a row. In the second set, Tony raced to a 4-1 advantage before Rosewall could find himself to make a fight of it.

But if Trabert supplied good news for the American camp, Seixas did just the opposite. Before today Hoad never had won a match from him. Instead of Hoad being nervous—as he should have since it was his debut in Davis Cup competition—it was Seixas who had a case of jitters.

POLICE ARREST TWO

Two Marion motorists were arrested for traffic violations over the weekend by city police. Irvin J. Markley, 38, of 233 Uhler Ave. was fined $15 and costs in Municipal Court this morning. He was arrested Saturday night and charged with driving with no operator's license. Arthur R. Vizi, 34, of 175 Pearl St. posted bond for his appearance in court Wednesday. He was arrested this morning and charged with speeding.

$140,000 Damages Asked by Bucyrus Concern From RFC

BUCYRUS — Damages totaling $140,000 are asked in a cross-petition and answer filed by the Transportation Seat Co. of Bucyrus, against the Reconstruction Finance Corp. The local firm also denies that $200,000 was loaned it by the RFC and asks $140,000 damages, alleging that the RFC's action in denying it a loan forced it out of business at a time when it had many government contracts to fulfill.

In October, three petitions were filed by the RFC against the firm, which has been closed since September. Two petitions are for recovery on chattel mortgages on the company's equipment and personal property, and the third asks foreclosure of a factors lien, laying claim to manufactured products now in the company's plant.

In its answer, in which it asks dismissal of the foreclosure action, the company charges that the RFC refused to advance a $200,000 loan to the firm. Officers of the firm claim that the market value of its that the market value of its assets assets last May was $150,000 and that the Oct. 1 market value had depreciated to $10,000, allegedly because of the RFC's actions. of the RFC's actions.

Braves, Pirates Satisfied With Trade Results

MILWAUKEE —Both the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Milwaukee Braves report they have gained from the weekend trade which sent infielder Danny O'Connell to Milwaukee in exchange for six Braves players and an undisclosed amount of cash.

"O'Connell gives us added batting power and also speed," said Charlie Grimm, manager of the Braves.

O'Connell, one of the most highly regarded young players in the National League, batted .294 last season, made 173 hits, including 26 doubles, eight triples and seven home runs, and scored 88 runs.

Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pirates, seemed more pleased them ever Sunday with the trade he concluded Saturday by telephone with General Manager John Quinn of the Braves.

"I was looking to the future in making the deal," he said. "One man isn't going to make the difference in the Pirates right now."

In return for O'Connell, the Pirates acquired Sid Gordon, a veteran outfielder; Max Surkont, a veteran right handed pitcher, Sau Jethroe, an outfielder who played with the Toledo American Assn. champions last season, and three farm club pitchers.

The young players are left hander Larry LaSalle, who had a 19-5 record with Jacksonville, Fla. in the Sally League; Curt Raydon, a Jacksonville right hander who won 11 and lost seven, and Fred Waters, a southpaw who had a 10-10 record with Lincoln, Neb., of the Western League.

Galion Residence Destroyed by Fire

GALION — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the home and all the possessions of a Galion couple, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Williams, early Saturday evening, just 40 minutes after the couple left their home to visit relatives.

The one-story two-room home was located at the rear of 633 West Railroad St. and had been constructed by Mr. Williams, an employe of the City of Galion. Everything Mr. and Mrs. Williams possessed, with the exception of the clothes they wore, was destroyed in the blaze. The contents of the home included a new television set which had been installed the day before Christmas.

There was no insurance on the home, but the couple had insurance on the contents, amounting to $2,000.

They are staying at the home of a brother, Alva Williams, southwest of Galion, at whose home they were visiting when the fire broke out.

A passerby noticed the blaze and stopped at the Marion Kragh home, 633 West Railroad St. and inquired if an alarm had been sent in. The Kragh family had not seen the flames.

Firemen were at the scene for about a half hour, but were unable to save anything because the flames had engulfed the home when the fire truck arrived. The call was received at 6:25 p.m.

The home was heated with a small coal stove, and whether or not the fire started from the stove or defective wiring could not be determined.

Shrine Game's Coaches Study Signal Callers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The star-studded East and West football squads today began final week's drills for the annual Shrine game Saturday, but who will quarterback the clubs was anyboy's guess.

East Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois had three top ball handlers to choose from — Dick Thomas of Northwestern, Pete Stark of Syracuse and South Carolina's John Gramling.

Judging from yesterday's practice, Stark and Gramling appeared to have the inside. Both saw considerable action before the club went sightseeing.

West Coach Chuck Taylor of Stanford had two quarterbacks to choose from, but it's a toughie: His own Bobby Garrett, top passer in the nation, or Baylor's Cotton Davidson, the Southwest Conference's ace aerialist.

Garrett has put on the best show in practice, but Davidson has been pressing him.

Officials of the British Columbia game commission estimate that 1,600 moose were killed by hunters during the 1953 season.

ACROSS THE COUNTER

Although the average person does not think of his insurance needs 365 days a year, there is one day when he always gives this matter attention. That's the day when the adjuster goes to his home to talk about his claim!

Earl J. Andrews

It's natural, when the adjuster calls, to think about whether the protection you have is adequate. Also, whether it is realistic in amount of coverage, whether it is up-to-date, whether it is full of holes or air-tight.

Unfortunately, at the time the adjuster calls, it is too late to improve or increase the coverages under your policy. This has to be done right NOW, before you experience a loss.

Many times, after losses, people who have insurance (whether with us or others) have told us that they wish they had purchased more adequate protection. And invariably, they ask us to review their needs and make recommendations.

Believe me, we'd much rather do that BEFORE a bad loss. Why don't you phone us tomorrow?

By John Crosby

The Children's Hour Again

"Dear Mr. Crosby:

"My class and I read your column faithfully every day because we are studying types of sarcasm and that's what you write about. I am in the sixth grade and just started reading the newspaper.

"Yours truly
"Ilene Jaffe"

J. CROSBY

Dear Ilene: Gee, schools must have changed a lot since I was a boy. I don't recall ever having taken sarcasm, certainly not in sixth grade Are you sure you're ready for it? And what do you take next year — irony?

FOR YOUR SENIOR year, might suggest a good thoroughgoing course in invective. You'll need it in later life at least as much as you need sarcasm. Sarcasm, at best, deals just a glancing blow. Invective is the straight punch in the nose. A dying art, since the days of the first Queen Elizabeth.

I deplore the rising tide of pragmatism in the public schools but I must confess a sneaking admiration for a school which arms its young ladies with a thorough knowledge of the uses of sarcasm. Nothing like a withering blast of the stuff to protect a girl from the trespasses of over - ardent young men. Comes in very handy with truck drivers, too, when they question — as they sometimes do — the right of the female to drive a car.

AND AFTER YOU GET married, you'll find this particular study will come in very handy when your husband stumbles home from an office party at 2 a.m. Of course, wives have always been pretty expert at this line of training from the schools. But your sarcasm, I assume, will be more pointed and crisp and have a higher literary merit than those of just ordinary wives who haven't been educated in the subject.

I'm not at all sure, though, that the contemporary newspapers are the most fruitful sources of inquiry, Ilene. You should go back to the early masters — Beerbohm Tree, King Lardner, Samuel Johnson, and — conceivably the greatest of them all — Wilson Mizner.

With that crew you should get straight A's, not only in school but for the rest of your life.

Happy New Year
John Crosby.

SPEAKING OF YOUTH, the Youth Research Institute has crowed that, while it was virtually impossible to capture the mind of a child of five until recent times, television has now made it easy. "A child of five attentively watching his TV set becomes aware of a large variety of merchandise and even remembers their brand names," says Youth Research Institute. Prior to the recent popularity of television, advertisers could not reach young people.

"It is important that the advertiser not abuse this new-found bridge between himself and children. Many sales are made by the indirect method of convincing the youngsters who in turn persuade their parents."

They sure are! The world is full of parents who have been driven berserk by small fry insisting that the gum be Roy Rogers' brand, that the cereal be Hoppy's cereal (or whatever he's advertising now.)

THE IMPRESSIONABILITY of children is not to be taken lightly and those of you who have suffered from it will be vastly entertained to hear that it sometimes backfires.

In Springfield, Illinois, an announcer named John Begue, while delivering a television commercial, took a knife and ripped apart two mattresses to reveal the interior foam padding. At his home, young son Johnny, carefully following Daddy's instructions on TV, rip open two of the Begue family's mattresses.

Morse for the Birds

DALLAS (AP)—A Dallas radio amateur thought for a while that her ears were playing tricks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jack have been improving their Morse code speed by practicing at home. Then Mrs. Jack began hearing the code at odd times when she wasn't practicing. The sound seemed to be coming from outside the house. It turned out to be a mocking bird which apparently thought it had learned a new song and was peeping out the "dit-dit-dahs" in authentic Morse code rhythm.

The practice of human sacrifice was an important aspect of the Aztec religion but was not practiced by the early Mayas.

Organization Conducts Study Of Reports on Flying Saucers

STURGEON BAY, Wis. (UP) — Did you ever see a flying saucer If so, Mrs. Coral Lorenzen of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., would like to hear about it, provided the object can't be explained away as a natural phenomenon.

The 28-year-old housewife and mother heads the Aerial Phenomena Research Organization, a non-profit group that gathers, studies and evaluates date on flying saucers.

Mrs. Lorenzen abhors crackpots and others who think evey light in the sky that doesn't come from a heavenly body is a space ship hurtling from Mars bent on destruction. She and members of her far-flung organization are intent upon discovering what apparently inexplicable objects really are and why there has been a rash of flying saucer reports in recent years.

Reports of saucer sightings are forwarded by members of APRO to the organization's main chapter here. Chapters are spread around the country and as far away as Astralia.

"We try," said Mrs. Lorenzen, "to fit any sighting into one of the following categories before labeling it as a bona fide aerial phenomena — unidentified balloons, conventional aircraft, reflections, meteors or atmospheric phenomena."

APRO had its beginning back in 1947 while Mrs. Lorenzen was in Arizona. She saw a strange light come from over the Mexican border and travel to the far horizon. It couldn't have been a meteor, she said, for it moved in the wrong direction. A few weeks later came the sighting of nine silvery objects over Mt. Rainier in Washington state. That really started the saucer "craze."

Mrs. Lorenzen said "none of the solutions offered at that time fitted the facts." When reports became fairly common she decided a group was needed to get details of all sightings of the strange objects. For that, a world-wide organization was needed, and she began contacting interested persons. So, in January, 1952, APRO was founded.

A sample of the reports — and there are numerous ones — is this one:

In July, 1947, a British woman was aboard a ship in the Straits of Madagascar. Late one night a bright light appeared, traveling fast. It descended, slowed down, and pulled up near the ship. The woman, a companion and crew members saw a cigar-shaped object with a steel band around its middle about 20 feet off the water. It was about four times the length of the ship. Fierce flames shot out from its rear. After a few seconds, the whole shape disappeared, trailing flames.

This, like other reports, was made by a sober-minded person, not likely to conjure up fantastic space ships, according to Mrs. Lorenzen.

Another criminal is caught by the police just as he was about to be named to the FBI's Ten Most Wanted list, and the motorist who had a wreck while on his way to receive an award for careful driving, will sympathize.

Rumor Factory Works

KINSTON, N. C. (AP)—When employes of Serv-Air Aviation Corp. at Stallings Field hear a company rumor they take it to the rumor factory. The factory is housed in a small structure resembling an outhouse. Inside is a large bulletin board with a 2-column sheet. In one column is written rumor and the other fact.

If the employe finds the rumor already written, he reads the fact. If not, be writes it under rumor and returns later to get the facts supplied by the personnel director.

Five-Hour New York to London Flight Predicted Within Decade

LONDON (INS) — Sir Miles Thomas, chairman of British Overseas Airways Corporation, predicts that within 10 years passenger airliners carrying 100 or more persons will fly from New York to London in only five hours.

In an exclusive question-and-answer interview with INS, Thomas said that the cost of trans-Atlantic air travel will become "highly competitive" with surface travel within the next decade.

Sir Miles, whose BOAC introduced the first turbojet airliner, the Comet, into regular passenger service, said the greatest single challenge facing international airlines today is the rising cost of equipment and operation.

As each technical improvement to lower the cost of air travel to the public is introduced, he said, it is largely offset by higher wages and higher material costs.

Airlines have "done well" to keep their fares reasonable stable during the last five years, he added, although the price of other commodities and services has gone up.

The BOAC Comet recently broke two civil air records—from Rio de Janeiro to Madrid, and from Madrid to London—on an experimental Comet London-Rio de Janeiro roundt-rip. Of that flight, Thomas said:

"The Comet today is far more than just a faster plane. It is becoming, to people abroad, the mark of Britain's resumption of leadership in world progress."

Thomas said he hopes to start a regular Comet service from London to South America "within eight months."

Here are Sir Miles' answers to other questions put to him:

Q. What must the airlines do to attract increased traffic, especially from that part of the public that never or rarely travels by air?

A. They must continue to offer greater comfort, both physical and mental, and greater speed of travel; and don't forget that speed of travel is measured from the moment the passenger starts his or her journey until the arrival at the destination.

Q. What types of aircraft will BOAC use in the next few years?

A. In the next few years BOAC will be using British-built Comet turbo-jets, turbo-prop Britannias, Argonauts, and American - built Stratocruisers and Constellations. There is a general move toward jet and turbo-jet aircraft in the corporation.

Q. When will BOAC introduce the Comet or the Britannia on its London-to-New York route?

A. In a few months' time we shall be carrying out upper air exploration over the North Atlantic with the prototype Comet II. Dependent on that will be the decision whether to introduce the Comet III's or Bristol Britannias, first on the North Atlantic route. Until this exploration is done it is not wise to hazard a guess about the dates, but it will be within the next two or three years, if not earlier.
